Were confronted with many new experiences.

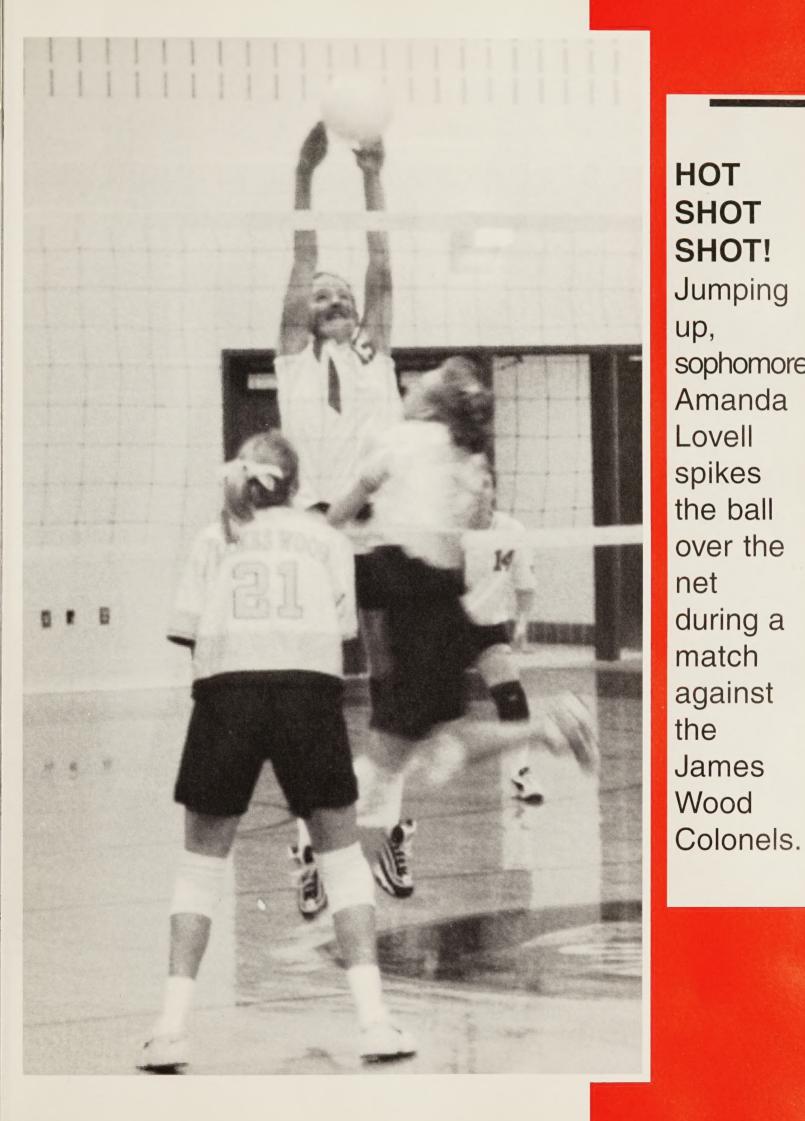

September marked the opening of a fourth school, Colonial Forge, in Stafford County and the reduction of our student body. Our players faced new competition, while the addition of volleyball widened the scope of extracurricular participation in our school. Students were expected to stretch their minds to meet the new standards for SOLs. We relied on old friends and faces and the support of our community to get us through the day at Brooke Point.....

MAY I HELP YOU? Every Tuesday and Thursday after school, sophomore Ryan Depew tutors math at Stafford Middle School Ryan said, "I tutor because I understand the concepts and the struggles they (the students) go through. I am able to teach new methods to help them grasp new concepts they are struggling with."

STORY TIME! Katie Hamm reads a book to children at Family Literacy Night to get the kids involved. She read the book Chicka Chicka Boom Boom, about the alphabet climbing up a tree and falling back down. Katie stated, "At Family Lit. Night we do activities to re-enforce reading skills."

GIDDY UP! On September 18, senior Matt McCluskey helps out with the pony rides. He volunteered at the Duck Race for Learn and Serve. "The most exciting part of the day was when I got to walk the little kids on the ponies round and round in circles."

Reaching Out For Each other and the Future

SUDS IT UP! October 23, senior Chelsea Weeks helps dry a car at the Red Cross car wash. Learn and Serve volunteers helped at the car wash, which was held at WaWa off Route 1. Chelsea exclaimed, "I love helping out with the Red Cross in whatever ways I can. Especially when I get to put some of my own elbow grease into it."

"Interact allows me to become more involved in the community. If feel good knowing I'm making a difference in people's lives. The benefits of helping people can make a huge, positive impact on their lives."

senior Alicia Burns

"I take Learn and Serve because I like to get involved in our community and help other people, making a difference in their lives. Every week I tutor at Stafford Elementary School; and the kids are always excited when I come back. It makes you feel really good about what you are doing.

junior Nikki Gamlin

"I helped the kids at Stafford Middle School with their Algebra 1 homework. I passed it last year; but I had a little trouble remembering everything. Thelp them with most of it but sometimes I have to ask Ryan Depew to explain answers. Lenjoy helping them but I'm sometimes confused."

"I requested Learn and Serve as an elective to become more involved with the community. I was tired of being bored with doing the same old thing, so I decided to do something about it and Learn and Serve allows me to."

senior Jason Fludd

Summer Flashback

The Last Millenium Blast

UP, UP, AND AWAY! While vacationing in Key West, Florida, seniors Jason Shea and Jenny Folks get strapped into their belts as they prepare to go parasailing for the first time. Jason and Jenny paid to parasail for 15 minutes; they were taken 500 feet into the air, and dipped twice in the water. During the vacation, they also jet skied, snorkeled, and scuba dived. I had a lot of fun on our vacation; I had my hair braided which was easier to manage and the parasailing was great. commented Jenny.

I went to Nationals for gymnastics, and I came in third in the Nation. After I got the award, my team and I went out to dinner. I also went to West Virginia to perform Jazz and Lyncal dances.
Toward the end of July, I went to cheerleading camp and I was a nominee for All-American."

freshman Jenniter Shingler

"Over the summer I spent a lot of time at the pool. In August, I went to see 98 Degrees at the Nissan Pavillion. I won the tickets at a water park in Manassas. Since the band 98 Degrees is my best friend's favorite group, I decided to take her. It was so much fun!"

sophopmore Samantha Boscia

"The most memorable part of my summer was when I went to the N'Sync concert with my best friends, juniors Talia Taylor and Katie Campbell.
Seeing Justin Timberlake and Jordan Knight in person was sooo awesome!"

junior Laura Anderson

"During the summer, I went to Las Vegas in June for a basketball showcase. That place was banding! I attended other tournaments for baseball, too. Talso took a trip to my friend's lakehouse at Lake Anna. It was so wonderful! While I was at home, I slept, ate, and went to parties.

senior Jonathan Serrano

VIVA LA FRANCE! Enjoying ice cream, senior Alicia Burns takes a break while she is visiting in Paris. Alicia earned a three week scholarship to study in France during the month of August. "The Eiffel Tower was scarier going down then it was going up. To avoid lines, my friends and I took the stairs," said Alicia.

STAYIN' ALIVE! Showing their skills, junior Jessica Meadows, sophomore Bailey Holt and Sally Smith from Colonial Forge dance on top of the dorm room heater. During the week of July 13, they went to Centrifuge Camp at Carson Newman College in Tennessee. "While taking a break from our activites, we enjoyed dancing in front of the windows for the large crowd outside," exclaimed Jessica.

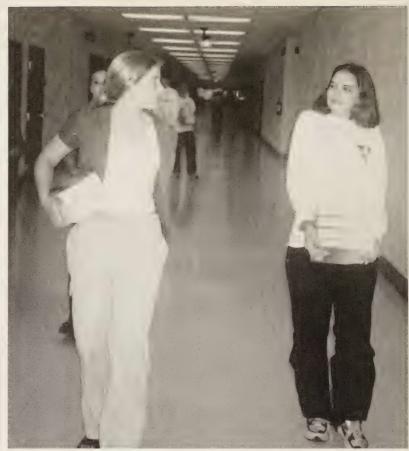

HOW DO YOU SPELL RELIEF? K-E-Y W-E-S-T according to Ms. Charlene Canas, Mrs. Helen Schwartz and son, Danny Schwartz. While they were there, they snorkeled, went to the Southern most point of the U.S., and watched an outstanding firework show titled "Last of the Millenium." "Staying down there we learned a very valuable lesson; always wear your sunscreen before you snorkel," stated Mrs. Schwartz.

MONKEY BUSINESS! During her stay in Hawaii and at a luau, senior Colleen Krepps is hugged by a monkey. Colleen, along with many other Brooke Point students, was gone for two weeks and visited Austrailia, New Zealand, and Fiji. "The monkey was trying to stick its tail down my shirt and it was not very comfortable," Colleen remarked.

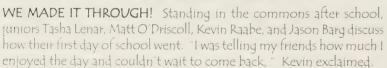

DON'T DROP EM. Sophomores Melanie Thomas and Rachell Wehrle carry 10th grade English books up to the storage room during 2nd period. Mrs. Hornung needed our help carrying the books up, so we helped her. Melanie stated.

32-8-12. Standing in front of her locker, sophomore Crystal Calloway puts her biology folder away. Tam glad none of my teachers gave out books the first day since we didn't get our lockers until 4th period," said Crystal.

LONG TIME NO SEE. After the first day of school in the commons, juniors Ashley Driscoll and Sarah Berube give each other a hug. The first day back gave most friends a chance to see each other and catch up on how their summers went. Ashley said, "Even though I saw Sarah a lot over the summer, it was good to see her at school and it gave us time to chat."

Here we go again

Back to the Grindstone

WHERE DO WE GO? On the first day of school, freshmen Kaitlan Deal, Jessica Sarli, and Nicole Fitterer look at their schedules to figure out where they need to be. It's hard for a lot of the freshmen to find their way around a high school after being in a middle school. Most freshmen got lost the first day, but they learned where they needed to be in a matter of days. Kaitlan said, "Brooke Point is a lot bigger than Stafford Middle School so it's a lot easier to get lost. By the end of the week, I learned my way around and now I can get to all my classes on time."

"I like the first week of school because I get to see all my friends for the first time since last year and I get to find out who is in all my classes. Plus, I get to catch up on all the sleep I missed during summer while I was was out late and never got any sleep."

Brigitta Larsson

"I don't like the first week of school because you have to get back into the mode of getting up early, and staying up late, or doing homework and projects."

senior Nicole Thompson

"I liked the first week of school because you get a lot more freedom than middle school and I got to see all the older girls. I didn't like that we had to sit through all of our classes and listen to the rules over and over again. It was boring."

Taylor Gill

"The first week of school I really didn't want to be here. I was supposed to go to Colonial Forge because they were going to have an awesome lacrosse team, but they wouldn't let me take AP Chemistry or play lacrosse, so I transferred back here."

REVENGE OF THE NERDS Juniors Krista Lanata and Keosha Sanders and senior Amanda Meadows try to figure out the circumference of Mr. Dan Dennet's Sports Medicine classroom. When asked why she dressed up for Nerd Day, Keosha reponded, "Jon Serrano was an inspiration to me, he let me borrow his clothes."

ROCK THE BELLS Seniors Melvin Allen and Artie Grace sport their 80s styles in the homecoming parade. Melvin was dressed as a member of the rap group Run DMC and Artie was the Colonel Sanders. "I liked our school spirit because it seemed like the seniors' spirit doubled. The class that was the next best was the juniors," replied Melvin.

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT, HOW BOUT YOU? During Miss Christine O'Connor's French IV/V class, juniors Mark Riddle and Becky Clark paint their faces for the upcoming pep rally. "I let Mark paint my face but I really didn't want it painted. I went to the bathroom and scrubbed it off," said Becky.

NIGHT AT THE ROXBURY For celebrity day on Monday October 18. seniors Brandon Reddick and Russ Lamoureux dressed up as their favorite characters from Saturday Night Live and performed a dance during the first lunch. It was really easy to come up with our outfits because we just went shopping in my mom's closet," commented Brandon.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL GIRLS RULE Running down the hallway, seniors Katherine Wallace and Jenny Folks try to beat the tardy bell to lunch. Katherine and Jenny chose to dress up in their St. Francis of Assisi middle school uniforms for twin day on Tuesday. Both girls attended the Catholic school and had to wear the uniform's white blouse, burgundy plaid skirt, burgundy knee socks, and matching shoes, everyday. Katherine commented about her outfit by saying, "At least today we were allowed to roll our skirts and not get in trouble for doing so."

"Homecoming was really nice, the decorations were really pretty and everyone had a really good time. My date Matt Foth was a lot of fun to go with, too."

Jenny Church

"I got to take an English person to Homecoming and spend money on someone that I had never met before in my life. I got to teach Caz, my date how to swing dance."

junior

SITTING PRETTY At His and Her Hair Salon, sophomore Kathy Angel receives last minute tips on how to make her hair last for the night. Many girls chose to get their hair and make up done professionally for the dance. "I loved my hair but I hated my makeup. I ended up going home, taking it off, and doing it again myself," said Kathy.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT While the rest of the seniors decorate their parking lot, senior Jason Shea writes seniors rule on senior Sara Eberhardt's car. Jason as well as the other seniors arrived to school at 6:30 in the morning to show the underclassmen that they had more spirit. The class of 2000 used chalk to decorate the parking lot, and car chalk to write on the cars. The rumor that morning was that some of the junior class had attempted to do the same thing the night before, but were arrested because of trespassing. "The graduating class of 2000 has had the most spirit I've ever seen at Brooke Point," commented Jason.

FINDERS KEEPERS While taking a rest from dancing, sophomores Brooke Butler and Ben Witzel examine the class ring that had been thrown across the floor. When asked how Homecoming went, Brooke replied, "the night was great, but after planning for two months, it went by really fast."

STARTING OVER Pinning the boutonniere on her date freshman Taylor Gill, freshman Katie Hargreaves giggles at the moment. Katie had been late getting ready for the dance and did not have time to participate in the traditional pinning pose, so they made up for it after the dance.

GETTIN' DOWN During the Homecoming dance, junior Lawrence West moves to the Electric Slide. By going to the dance, students had the opportunity to impress their dates with dancing skills as Lawrence tried to impress his date sophomore Adeidra Washington. "Getting down and dirty; don't be ashamed, just do it," said Lawrence.

LIGHTNING STRIKES

And We Strike Back With a Big Win

Due to the thunderstorm, the original Homecoming game scheduled for October 23 was played on the 24th. Students scrambled around to meet hair appointments and still participate on their class floats. The floats were supposed to be judged on Friday night, but due to the rain, they had to be judged on Saturday, which may have changed the outcome.

BIG SCREEN TV Decked out in neon, ripped clothes, and big hair seniors: John Chirhart, Nicole Wise, Erin Wederbrook, Jonathan Tyrrell, Dan Moyer, and Sean Courtney dance to 80's music. The seniors chose to present their 80's theme in a big television set as "kidz of the 80's." Senior Jeff Tate provided the graffiti talent as other seniors dressed up as various stars from the 80's including Madonna, the Ghostbusters, and Run DMC. The seniors as well as the juniors and sophomores received one vote from the judges, this resulted in a tie for first place. The seniors also won the spirit stick at the pep rally and the overall spirit award for spirit week.

SATURDAY DAY FEVER Members of the junior class depict their theme of the 70's by dressing up as Star Wars characters, astronauts, and disco queens. "Ours was ten times better than the seniors and we should have won, stated Katie Campbell.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING Participating on their class float, sophomore Brie Ward, Joanna Bartz, and Kristina Martino exhibit different aspects of the 20's. The sophomore float depicted women's suffrage, the stock market crash, and prohibition.

FLYING HIGH During the Homecoming pep rally, sophomores J.C. Straub, Adam Spinelli, and Eric Pomeroy wave the flag they made displaying their graduating year. With sophomores Steven Anderson, John Swift, and Shannon Housden, the flag was made for five dollars and assembled in Eric's backyard. "We did it because we wanted to show seniors that sophomores have more spirit, and the night before we drove with the flag in the back of the truck and a whole bunch of seniors chased us and tried to attack us," said Eric.

I work at the movies in Adula Towne Center and the most embarrassing thing that has ever happened to me was when I was putting butter in the popeorn machine and the machine broke and squirted butter all over me! I looked so ridiculous and not to mention I smelled like butter all night!"

I had just started working at a local eatery and I had no idea where anything was. I had to go to the bathroom really bad, so I walked in the first door I saw. As I was going to the bathroom the door flew open exposing me with my pants down and some guy staring at me. I had walked into the guys rooom!"

> junior Lindy Ruh

I work at Clothes Time in Potomac Mills and one daymy boss asked me to wipe the windows at the front of the store. I continued to speak to him, not realizing that he had walked away and I was talking to myself as people walked by me thinking I was totally wierd. I felt so stupid!"

> senior KiraGosnell

I work at Padrino's and my most embarrassing moment was when I was carrying a bunch of sodas to a table and I accidently tripped on a wet spot. Everyone that saw laughed at me. All I could do to play it off was to laugh along with them. I'm extra careful carrying sodas now!"

> junior Thomas mcGowan

GRIND, PERK, POUR Working after school on a Monday afternoon, junior Sarah Athing prepares a chocolate latte at Gargoyles in Aquia Towne Center. "Working here is cool because I get to meet a lot of nice people." Sarah stated. Gargoyles has become a major hangout for students and teachers. Sarah also stated, "On Friday nights it's really busy but it's ok because I see all my friends and chat with them when they come in to buy coffee."

SAVIN' UP FOR....

VIONEY!

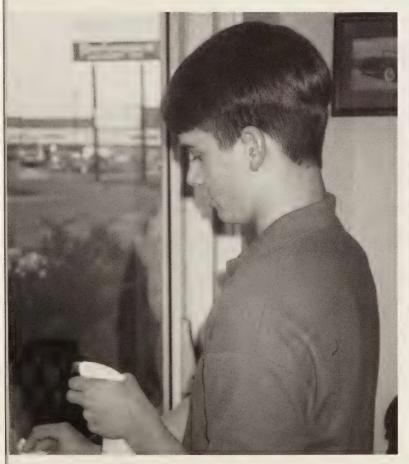

THE COMPLETE PICTURE Adjusting a printing machine at Photo Art, junior Mark Riddle makes sure everything is in order and working properly. "When you conrtrol the photo you control everything." Mark stated. Working at Photo Art is not all about looking at friends photos that are being developed, but it is hard work learning to work all the machines and keeping customers happy. "Most people think that I have an easy job, but if they only knew!" Mark added.

FLOWER POWER Some people might think that working at a flower store like Anita's is girlie, but it's a guys place too. Working on a flower arrangement, senior Walter James gently breaks off uneeded pedals. Walter said, "Working at Anita's is like working at the National Inquirer, you get the low down on everyone and everything." Walter had been working at Anita's for about five months and says he loves it. "How many people can say they know how to arrange flowers?" Walter added.

SHOW AND TELL Giving her undivided attention to a few kids at Children's World in North Stafford, junior Deloris Hoff explained, "I love working with kids and it's a good learning experience for me. The kids are wonderful too."

MR. CLEAN Junior Geoff Troidl washes a window at Cafe Devanzo before closing. "It's not the best part of the job, but it pays!" Geoff admitted. He also stated that he likes hanging out with his co-workers.

SAY WHAT?! While sporting their Nautica shirts, senior Allen Beach and sophomore Chris Walick talk about their weekend plans. Chris commented, "I like Nautica because I like the style of clothing, and it is really comfortable!"

HAHA! During 3rd lunch, juniors Brigitta Larsson and Laura Schmitt make a trip to the juice machine. "My favorite place to shop is Contempo Casuals because all their clothes are really tight!" commented Brigitta.

WORK IT GIRL! Walking down the hallway, junior Chelsea Gumby shows off her new shirt from Express. "I like shopping at Express because they have really cute clothes!" Chelsea stated, "They are really trendy."

It doesn't really matter to me where I shop for clothes. There is no particular store that I like to shop in, just as long as the clothes are pimpish and the styles are bangin!

junior PJ Kania I like shopping at American Eagle and Abercrombie and Fitch because they have pictures of hot guys all over the store. I also love the style of clothes because they are extremely cute and comfortable!
Sarah Berube

Aeropostale is a really cool place to shop because it is a new store and not that many people shop there yet. Thats always cool because I don't have the same clothes as a lot of people, it is just my style of clothing. It is also extremely affordable and the clothes are so cute and comfortable! sophomore Janelle Miller

I really like shopping at Hecht's because they have so many different styles to choose from. The prices are also very reasonable, and they have a lot of sales! freshman Katie Hargreaves

GOT LOTION? While waiting for her turn to take underclassmen picture retakes, junior Ashley Driscoll freshens up with her favorite Bath & Body Works lotion, Cucumber Melon. She was sporting her sweater from Abercrombie and Fitch. "Abercrombie and Fitch is my favorite store to shop in!" stated Ashley, "I can't go into Abercrombie and not buy anything! I love everything in there, and the styles are so awesome!"

Where To Go... What To Do...

A NIGHT OUT ON THE TOWN. At the movies Friday night, sophomore Jessica Gilley, senior Dana McQueeny, junior Andre Monteil, senior Elizabeth Royston, and junior Crystal Adcock wait for their movie to start. Jessica said "We all decided to hang out that Friday night to see Three To Tango." Going to the movies, as well as going to football games, Gargoyle's, Carlos O'Kelly's and Exxon, were all popular places to hang out on the weekends. As many people know, living in Stafford limited the weekend activities. As freshman Melissa Flanagan explained, "I like going to the movies on Friday nights because there are no parents around to bother you!"

"My favorite place to hang out is in Lane's hig blue garage. We make teepees out of blankets, huddle by the fire, drink apple cider, and watch the sun rise." senior Matt McCluskey

"I like going to Spanky's because it is a laid back atmosphere where Ashley Driscoll and I can let our true feelings of friendship shine. We order our regular everytime, then we make fun of the waiter who thinks he's cool. and then we order our favorite desert, Chocolate Truffle." junior Lindsay Horton

"I'll hang out

WHAT SHOULD WE SEE? At a home football game one Friday night, juniors Britney Williams and Christian O'Conner laugh at a joke being told by a friend. When asked why he liked going to the games. Christian replied, "Because I get to show my school spirit. YEAH!

CHOW DOWN. Juniors Colleen Rooney, Laura Schmitt, Jennifer McDaniel, and Sara Athing all agree that they like going to Carlos O Kelly's on weekends. Colleen added, "We all had a lot of fun together that night!"

JUST CHILLIN'. Juniors Katie Campbell and Roxanne Brenner hang out in Roxanne's bedroom. Katie commented, "Since Roxanne and I are best friends, we are together all the time. We love hanging out together and we ALWAYS have the best time!" Roxanne agreed with Katie and also said, "I love hanging out with Katie because she's so much fun and I just love being with her!"

SHOP 'TIL YOU DROP. Juniors Krista Lanata and Mikhalia Riede hang out together at Spotsylvania Mall. They said they were looking for outfits to wear the next day. They were referring to "Twin Day", which was one of the dress-up days during Spirit Week. Krista said, "We were at the mall forever trying to find cute outfits that we thought nobody else would have!"

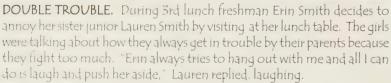

WHAT HAPPENED? During halftime at the Stafford game on October 15th, senior George Freeman explains to his step brother senior Jason Heisler why he is also on crutches. "Everyone thought I was trying to make fun of my bro because he was a gimp on crutches," explained George. George had torn a ligament on the top of his foot playing basketball before the football game, and Jason had broken his shin during the first week of football practice.

SISTER SPIRIT. Sophmore Lisa Anderson helps her sister junior Laura Anderson fix her cheerleading coursage on Spirit Day. "It's cool having my little sister in the same school as me because she is one of my best friends and I get to keep an eye on her," Laura exclaimed.

CHICKS WITH STICKS. Sisters senior Amanda Meadows and junior Jessica Meadows play around before they warm up for the first home game of the season against Liberty. "I like playing on the same team as my sister because I realize our years together are limited. We must cherish the time that we do have and bond like sisters should," Jessica said sarcastically.

Distinct Territory

Growing up Together

SPIKIN' SISTERS! Junior Jennifer Lovell waits for her sister sophomore Amanda Lovell to hit the ball to her while peppering at a November 1st volleyball practice. Peppering is a vollyball term used when two players pass the ball to each other. Jennifer stated, "I love having my little sister on the volleyball team with me. We play a lot of sports together and play very well together.

"I love my older sister, senior Jennifer Turville. I will do anything for her. She gives me a ton of lunch money and rides. Lalso like all of her older female friends. We get along very well and never fight. She also introduced me into cheerleading. I don't think I would have done it if she didn't push me. sophmore Richard Turville

"I like having my older sister senior Chelsea Jones in the same school because I can avoid riding the bus. I also have a sister in the school, my twin, sophomore Amanda Jones. 1 love having her here because I can get help with my homework and we can talk about quys. sophomore

Heather Jones

"It is cool having my sister in the same school as me, especially the same grade. When we were in cheerleading I liked having her there when I stunted because I knew she would not let me fall on my head." senior Courtney Loy

"Even though my sister Jennifer (Herman) is a senior, she still takes me places. She even gives me money. Another reason why I like my sister is she has a really cool boyfriend. freshman Chris Herman

AND WE STILL TALK TO EACH OTHER? The creme of Mrs. Czekner's fifth grade class at Anne E. Moncure Elementary School wait for bigger and better things to come. The students have remained friends though seven years have passed. Can you guess who they are?

LET THEM EAT CAKE At Annette Randall's nineth birthday party at Aladdin's Castle, seniors Carrie Saunders, Annette Randall, and Katie White sit down to eat cake after playing video games. "The party was so much fun; we played games for hours and just hung out," commented senior Annette.

CHOP SUEY ANYONE? Sophomores Megan Gaskill and Joy Myers teach other girls in Brownie Scouts how to make Chinese hats and fans. The Brownies participated in Thinking Day which was a celebration of other cultures. When asked what she enjoyed most about Thinking Day Megan commented "I really enjoyed meeting other girls and learning about other countries."

THE BUS STOPS HERE On the first day of kindergarden juniors Reed Sandlin and Kelley Fitzpatrick wait for the bus to come and take them to school. "I was really nervous about riding the bus for the first time but having a friend with me made it seem not as bad," stated Reed.

I still have a lot of the same friends from elementary school. I think it's great growing up around the same people because it gives you a sense of community and friendship. You always have to be able to discuss your problems with your friends.

I have a few friends that are the same from when I was younger, but most of them have either moved away or we have lost touch. I think long friendships are dependant on 900d communication and common ground." junior Leigh Landress

"I have some of the same friends. but most of my friends now are new. A lot of my friends and I have grown apart. You have to care about your friends and make an effort to keep in touch with them, even if you don't have any classes together." senior Jeffrey Sinclair

My friends and I from when I was very young have grown apart, but I still have a few from middle school. I think all lasting friendships need honesty, kindness, and the people need to have things in commom." junior

Rebecca Cornell

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO ME At junior Erin Price's birthday party, juniors Kelly Waugh and Amy Christafano watched as Erin opens one of her presents. "I was so excited about getting to have my party at McDonald's because all of the cool kids had their party there," remarked Erin. The girls have remained close throughout the years.

It's fun being a senior because all of the underclassmen look up to you. It almost makes you feel like a celebrity. Also, all the senior priveledges that we get makes you feel like all that waking up at 6:00 a.m. for the last three years has finally paid off."

senior Doug Taylor

Finally, after four years of waiting I can say it's my turn. My turn to rule this school, Brooke Point. What do I like the most about my senior year? Of course it's great eating in the senior courtyard, and velling at juniors for parking in the SENIOR parkng lot, but the thing I like the most is all of the great friends I've made in high school."

senior George Freeman

My favorite thing about being a senior is that you can be goofy! I swear! All through high school, your freshman. sophomore, and junior years, the seniors make fun of you if you try and act goofy. But finally, I can be the dork I truly am, and everybody thinks it's cool!"

> senior Leslie Mayne

For twelve years now, I've been waiting for my SENIOR year to come. Everyday just to get through the day I think, today is one day closer to my freedom. After school is over, 1 am going to miss it, but getting to move on is awesome, so I'm gonna try to pass and get through my last year in school; my last year at Brooke Point! senior Jessica Matthews

All the dances, all the lunches together with our friends, all the memories we've made, all things we'll never forget. For three years we've waited for the time we could finally say we were seniors. Now that the time is here, it's a lot scarier than most of us expected. Next year some will being going away to school, some will be starting a job, many leaving behind friends known for years, moving on to meet new people, going to new places, and best of all, having new experiences. For years we've said how wonderful it would be after graduation, how great it would be to have the freedom to stay out later at night and to do whatever we wanted, many of us not realizing that with freedom, comes responsibility. For some, senior year is a somewhat bitter-sweet experience. Looking around the hallways the last week of school, saying our final goodbyes to friends and teachers we've grown to love, realizing our childhood is over. Time to move on to the "real world," as we've all heard many adults talk about in the past. Never again will we walk the hallways as a student, but as a visitor instead. It's time to grow up and take responsibility for our actions, many of which will effect the rest of our lives. For most of us it's time to break free from our comfort zones and take a giant step toward adulthood. We've seen our friends in previous years do it, and now it's our turn. Not knowing what college we'll want to go to and wondering if we'll even get accepted are both things that weigh heavy on a senior's mind; all the pressure, all the expectations from parents, teachers and most of all, ourselves. But all we need is confidence in ourselves, in all the lessons we've learned from all the experiences we've had, many good, many bad, but all a part of life and growing up. And now, finally, it's time to move on.

What to do Next?

Freedom at Last!!

LIVIN' IT UP! Finally allowed to eat in the senior courtyard, seniors Nicole Thompson, Kelly Davis, Jame Raven, and Jessica Matthews discuss how great it is to be able to eat outside on nice days. "Eating outside is a nice break from being in school." said Jame.

USE YOUR TIME WISELY Utilizing her time, senior Julie Parker fills out a college application early during free time in her third period government class. "I had no idea filling out applications would take this long," Julie said. Filling out college applications are very time consuming, so many seniors try and do it anytime they can, even in class.

SECOND TIME AROUND While senior Jenny Folks takes down senior Pat McDaniel's picture information, seniors Melvin Allen and Brian Burke get themselves ready to have their own pictures taken, as senior Jessie Marino looks on. The experience was different for everyone especially Pat who said, "All the photographers were hitting on me!"

DECISIONS, DECISIONS...Walking from table to table, senior Lindsay Drucker picks up a pamphlet from Montreat College during college night at Spotsylvania Mall. "College night gave me more options that I didn't know I had," Lindsay said. Many students from the local high schools went to college night including several Brooke Point students.

Athletic Antics

Students Compete Outside of School

FANCY FOOTWORK. Dribbling the ball, junior Reed Sandlin dodges junior Joanna Emerson on a Saturday afternoon during a scrimage. Reed and Joanna played on a Parks & Recreation team to enhance their skills. When asked why she plays Joanna stated, "Rec soccer isn't taken as seriously because you don't have to worry about messing up."

"Definately Dance! We practice so much harder than a lot of other "sports" in this school. We dancers basically live at Brooke Point. We put so much time and energy into it, and we compete and do everything else a sport does."

senior Kelli Mauldin

"Biking should be a school sport because we have no place around here to go biking except in Widewate which is too far."

junior Chris Coulfield

"Ithink we should have a rock climbing team, because it's fun! I also think students would enjoy it. Rock climbing would be something different from all of the other usual sports we have here at Brooke Point."

"Ice hockey would be a good sport for Brooke Point to have. Girls have field hockey, so guys should be able to have ice hockey. Ice hockey would be a good addition, because some people don't play any sports, and a lot of people like hockey."

freshman Wesley Hough

spread by Annette Randall

FIVE BALL, SIDE POCKET. Concentrating on her shot, senior Michelle Barnes aims to hit the five ball into the corner pocket at the Sports Garden. Although she didn't make the shot, Michelle continued to work on her skills "as often as possible."

JUMP! JUMP! Riding English style, freshman Jackie Pratt jumps her horse, Shady, at Oakleaf stables. "Riding is one of my favorite things because it helps me relieve stress," said Jackie.

JAB THIS! At Power Kix Karate Studio sophomore Ashley Oburn perfects her side kick. She began lessons this past August, as a white belt and hoped to attain her blue belt by next year. Ashley took karate not only to learn selft defense, but also to learn self discipline. She commented, "I have always loved watching martial artists; they are so graceful but sharp and deliberate."

VROOM VROOM! During a recent practice session at Old Dominion Speedway, senior Jack Bailey makes laps in preparation for that night's race. Jack had raced for the past six years with the help of various sponsors. When he was asked why he enjoyed racing Jack responded, "It's a lot of fun because it's something not very many people get a chance to do."

- Beautiful friendships emerged with new faces as some of the
- Old ones left to Colonial Forge, the newest high school to come
- Out of Stafford County. Brooke Point's population
- Measured up just short of last year, one thousand six hundred forty.
- nviting closer relationships among the staff and peers.
- ew administrative office openings brought back old familiar people.
- Tathering at pep rallies, and hanging out in the commons brought us all together.

READ READ! In Mr. Skirchak's 6th period English class, sophomore Ryan Ange sits at his desk reading from his literature book. Ryan said, "Reading is good because it expands my intelligence and enhances my vocabulary."

DREADED PAPER In Mrs. Hornung's 2nd period Honors English class, sophomores Aimee Winston, Kristen Shusko, and Heather Tool are working on their reasearch papers for an upcoming due date. Kristen said, "Doing our research was easy because the librarians were really helpful, along with most of the equipment the library had to offer."

ACT IT OUT In Mrs. Pozier's 4th period English class. juniors Brian Roth, Marie Rosado, and Dennis O'Connor are reading an act from The Crucible. Reading the Crucible was part of the 11th grade curriculum. Dennis said, "I liked acting out the play because it was fun and it was easier to understand the story after studying it. Mrs. Pozier commented, "The Crucible was Arthur Miller's way of making people understand every individual has the right to express his or her opinion without penalty."

"I love my English class because of my teacher Mrs. Wehrle." freshman Alfonso Faltz

"My favorite thing about my English class is our seminars because we get to express our opinions." junior Tricia Agee

RIPPING THE PAGES In Mrs. Balgavy's 7th period 10th grade English class, sophomore Matt Meixler does a presentation on the book Farenheight 451. He ripped pages out of the book to represent the burning of the books in the novel. Mrs. Balgavy commented, "The reason we did the presentation is so the students would get a better understanding of the book. We also thought the presentation illustrated the theme in a dramatic way."

LET'S LEARN TO REVIEW! During Mrs. Debbie Sullivan's sixth period, the class reexamines what they learned the day before by playing a game. The classes did a lot of review for SOLs. midterms and upcoming tests. These days were often filled with fun, and review-game playing. Sophomore Kaitlan Deal stated, The class is very interactive. We combined a lot of different ways to help us remember things."

John was trying to finish his homework in class so that he would not have more to take home that night. "I was working on a difficult angle bisector of a triangle, I had been working on the same one the whole period!' John exclaimed. In geometry class students learned about all the different types of angles and polygons and how to measure them. In some classes teachers liked to do activities with their students using different techniques such as having students draw figures on patty paper.

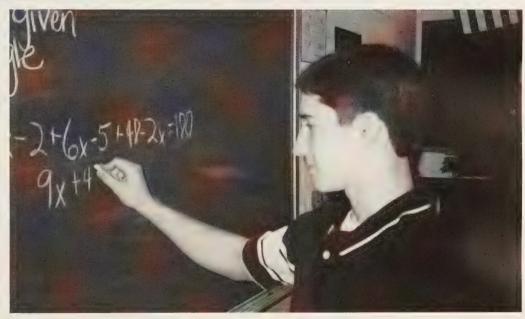

A'B=C Showing the class how to draw an acute angle, sophomore Megan Miller demonstrates on the chalkboard. The class was practicing for an upcoming quiz in Mrs. Robin Hayes' class. "In geometry class we take turns drawing figures on the board to help learn. We understand more that way," said Megan.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER? Mrs. Robin Hayes asks sophomore Joe Cavataio to come to the board and demonstrate how to do the equation. He had no trouble with the problem. "All the special superstars get to write on the board in Mrs. Hayes geometry class," Joe stated.

Quickly signing back and forth, Krystal Conton-Jackson and Nicole Malsum silently communicate with each other. Many students had reservations about taking ASL because they feared that it would be too hard, but Krystal said, "It's a really cool class because I thought it was going to be really hard, but it's actually turned out to be a fun class." ASL increasingly became more and more popular with the students over the past few years.

QUE PASA? Helping the students in his 6th period Spanish III class, teacher Mr. Vicenc Feliu answers a question junior Matt O'Driscoll asks about the test he is taking. Spanish was the most popular foreign language offered and had more teachers than all the other foreign languages. Many students liked taking Spanish Matt's stated, "I'm in Spanish III with Sr. Feliu, and I love it!" A lot of the students that take a foreign language are really interested in learning the language because they feel it will help them later in life. Junior Tahina Lavalliere said, "Knowing only one language won't get you very far today, and knowing another language will allow me to communicate with all types of people that I normally wouldn't talk to."

Are you really interested in learning a foreign language?

"Yes, because I plan to pursue a medical career and knowing Latin will help me in the long run because most medical terms are derived from Latin, and it will be easier later if I get to know the meanings now."

junior Rhiannon Padgett

"Yes, I am really interested in learning a second language because I want to be bilingual, and I think it will help me get ahead in my career and allow me to make more money.

Why Do You Take Tech/Life Skill Classes?

THE EXPERIENCE. During Mr. Gerald Brooks' Auto Service 1 class, junior Darnell Washington sorts tool parts on the floor into the toolbox. In this Tech class, students learned how to fix cars. They used the engines and other parts of a car that were provided to help them. Darnell exclaimed, "This is a cool class because we can learn to fix things like our cars when they need to be fixed." This class also provided students some of the experiences they needed if they wanted to become a mechanic when they applied for jobs.

Tech/Life Skills are classes in which students learn from and gain knowledge and experience that they will use in their future life. Brooke Point High School has offered a variety of classes from Child Care 1 and 2 (classes that give students experience and knowledge on how to handle children and what it is like to have children of their own) to Health Assistant and Life Management Skills.

As the year went by, many students took these classes because most them hands-on experience. There were other students who took these classes because they were fun and exciting.

THE PROJECT. Mr. Mark Springston watches freshmen Jeremy Booth and Justin Brown working on the computer during 6th period as they are finishing their project. After both freshmen finished, they presented the final product (the brochure of their company) to Mr. Springston. Both Jeremy and Justin exclaimed, "This class is fun because you get to work on the computers and because we like hands-on experiences! Making brochures was one of the many things done in class.

ATTENTION EVERYONE! Seniors Ali Barg and Chelsea Weeks speak to the student council association (SCA) members at the beginning of a meeting. SCA general assembly meetings were held once a month. Each class would meet individually after general business was taken care of to discuss issues the important to that specific class.

JINGLE BELLS! Juniors Adam Wimer and Amanda Chichester ring bells for the Salvation Army on November 20, 1999. Some members of the SCA volunteered their time to collect money in front of Spotsylvania Mall for the less fortunate. We had fun ringing the bells but annoying when people would look at us funny because of what we were doing, "said Amanda.

FIELD TRIP Seniors Ali Barg, Kelly Snedeker, Chelsea Weeks, Amanda Meadows, Courtney Loy, Lindsay Loy, junior Tasha Lenarand senior Adrienne Bory pose for the camera during a field trip to Washington. "We went there expecting a boring day but we had a great time!" commented Tasha.

DISCO DANCE! Juniors Jessica Meadows and Chris Marshall and seniors Amanda Johnson and Kelly Snedekershow off their costumes for spirit week during freshman orientation. We wanted the freshmen to get an idea of how they were supposed to dress for spirit week, 'said Jessica. Freshman orientation was not only for freshmen but for any new student who wanted to get aquainted with the school.

ARE WE COMPATIABLE? After school on Thursday January 6th, sophomore class president, Nikki Carpenter designs a poster for a fundraiser. The sophomore class sponsered a compatibility survey. The survey was free to fill out, but cost two and three dollars for compatibility among your class and the whole school respectively. The results were then sold during the week of Valentine's Day.

GIVING THE GRADE. To receive service hours for NHS, senior Erin Webb grades some papers for Mrs. India Pozier's english class. Besides keeping their grades above average. National Honor Society members had to volunteer their services to the surrounding community. Erin stated. National Honor Society gives students a chance to help the community while expanding their standing at school.

BOOT FULL OF CASH Before her second period class, junior Kammie Bingham receives two dollars from junior Jenna Lowndes. The members of National Honor Society wore shoes around their necks to raise money for the Salvation Army's Shoe Fund. National Honor Society is a wonderful way to build character and to represent high standards! Tenjoy the projects we produce and the experience I've gained through this organization. said Jenna.

Town of the state of the state

FROM THE PRESIDENT:

From the day the Brooke Point chapter of the National Honor Society was founded six years ago, to the dawn of a new millenium, this organization has grown incredibly. While we still have not received the full recognition for which we've worked so diligently, members continue to serve the school, the community, and themselves under the high standard the Honor Society expects and demands of it's students. The purpose of this society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to develop strong and confident character, to stimulate a desire to render service, and to promote honorable leadership. In the future, I hope the organization will be given the opportunity to participate in more school-sponsored events, to work with other school organizations such as the SCA, and to exhibit the qualities we hold in such high esteem.

HELPFUL HAND During their fourth period Physics I class, senior Chris McCullough tutors junior Malorie Burkes before a big test on Newton's Laws of Motion. Chris stated. National Honor Society is not just about taking credit for past efforts. It is about helping the community. Malorie also commented, "I like getting help from the students in National Honor Society. They are a lot easier to understand than the teachers."

LOLLIPOP MAN Sentor Valy Lungocia enjoys a cherry flavored lollipop he purchased from National Honor Society member junior Colleen Connell during his second period study hall. Valy remarked, "I didn't mind paying for the lollipop because I knew my money was going to a good cause. Members sold lollipops to raise money for a scholarship the club gave to a senior member each year.

Creating A New Masterpiece

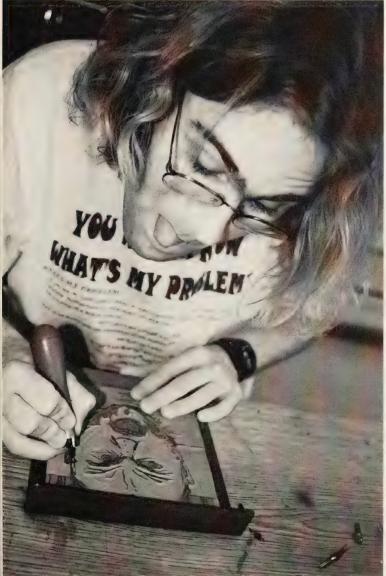

REFLECTIONS Junior Chris Bartick and senior Jamie Mever work on printing portraits of themselves. Tlike National Art Honor Society because it's relaxing and Lenjoy hearing Mrs. Kathleen Adams yell at all the people who are throwing paint across the room. Chris commented.

CREATING A MASTERPIECE At a National Art Honor Society meeting junior Andre Monteil is carving out a tile for print making. I've loved art ever since kindergarten when I got my first taste of fingerpainting," Andre commented.

FINGERPAINTING Using her finger to smear in the color, senior Alisa Baldo puts the finishing touches on one of her pictures. "I've always been creative with my art supplies. When I was little I used finger paints as afternoon snacks and crayons as nose probes. My point is that ever since I was a little girl art has been a part of my life. Now, as I look forward to college art will be my life," Alisa said. As well as being a member of the NAHS, Alisa is also the president.

THE MIRROR HAS TWO FACES Making a portrait of himself, senior Jonathan House looks into the mirror and creates a perfect likeness. 1 like art. It's a great chance to scare people with my off-the-wall ideas, Jonathan said. His art is a reflection of the techniques he has learned this year.

A WORD FROM OUR SPONSOR: FBLA gives the students a sense of being involved with a group of peers that have the same interests. The business teachers try to provide fundraisers that generate a large profit so that the members can benefit from it. Social activities around the holidays seem to be the members' favorite thing to do. The Spring Regional Conference in March is something we as business teachers strive for in our classes to teach the members business terms and skills so that they may compete against other FBLA chapters within the Region.

HELP ME! At the December 15th FBLA meeting, senior Lindsay Scavone looks for words in the word search puzzle as senior Katrina Norman watches. Lindsay said, My favorite thing about FBLA is the socials we always have. They're always really fun! Most of the FBLA members agreed with Lindsay. The socials always seemed to have more people than the regular meetings did.

CANDY STRIPER? Mrs. Tez Chambers hands a candy cane to junior Jessica Meade at the FBLA Winter Social. After the business part of the meeting was done, the members played games, won prizes and ate food. Jessica commented, "FBLA is the best club because we play lots of fun games and get to win prizes." Most FBLA members agreed, and it showed at the meetings. There was always more people at the socials than at the other meetings.

WEWON! Juniors Nitin Patel and Andrew Shirk look for the last couple words on their word search. Nitin and Andrew finished before anyone else and they both received a candy bar for winning. Both agreed that "FBLA meetings are fun because of the word searches!"

I'LL HELP! Junior Martha Mathis reaches for an ornament from the FBLA Christmas tree. Each ornament had something written on it and the FBLA members went out and bought these items for a charity organization. Martha commented, "I joined FBLA because it helps the community and others in need." There were many activities to participate in during the year, but the members did not get points for this one. It was something that you did if you wanted to help out, but no reward was given.

TEAMWORK! Seniors Lindsey and Courtney Loy, juniors Aidan Caldwell, Kammie Bingham, and Geoff Troidl work hard as a team to finish the crossword puzzle first. Aidan said, "Lindsey and I are tearin' up this crossword for FBLA." Everyone in FBLA seemed to like the crossword puzzles the best. When asked why she liked FBLA, Kammie replied, "FBLA is fun. I like the socials because it's like a miniature after school party."

GETTING PREPARED Before the last performance of The Crucible, Mrs. India Pozier prepares herself by running through her lines. She played the part of Tituba, the slave accused of witchcraft, in the November play. The tears I shed came from the pain I realized each accused person would suffer," commented Ms. Dosier.

TAKE THAT! Sophomore Billy Whiteside and senior Liz Welke act out a scene from their winter play How to Eat Like a Child. "The thing I like about drama is that I can be something I'm not!" commented Liz. The Brooke Point Players did this play for their regional competition in February.

CARRYING A TUNE At a January practice, senior Megan Wagner warms up her voice for her solo part in the How to Eat Like a Child song. "This play was really fun to do!" commented Megan. "It was hardwork, but it payed off because we got 2nd in Districts and 3rd in Regionals.

JUST CHILLEN On January 14th, sophomore Tim Krems follows along in his script as fellow cast members practice a scene from their winter play. "This would be a whole lot easier if I could read!!" Tim said jokingly. The cast of How to Eat Like a Childwas taking turns playing different parts. They did this to determine what part they would permanetly be playing.

STRIKE A POSE! Sophomores Tara Roe, Chrissy Watts, and Dan Korn rehearse the car scene from their winter play How to Eat Like a Child. "Acting is just something that comes naturally to me!" commented Chrissy, "It's especially fun because I get to hang out with my friends at the same time!"

EATING LIKE A CHILD During a January practice for their competition play How to Eat Like a Child, sophomore Sara Morrison acts out the "mashed potato scene." "I loved acting in this play!" stated Sara, "I love the Carr's so much, and I'm really going to miss them after they leave." The Brooke Point Players had to practice for at least three hours everyday after school and on the weekends.

WRAP IT UP! Members of the Junior Civitan club, seniors Tiffany Lloyd, Kim Kuehn, and Michelle Barnes wrap Christmas presents at Spotsylvania Mall. The proceeds went toward the Fredericksburg Area HIV/AIDS Support Services. "It was fun helping people for a good cause, even when I had to wrap a Teletubby," commented Tiffany.

PAY YOUR DUES! During a meeting, senior Jenny Lepper and sophomore Laura Wiederwax turn in their dues to senior Jenny Folks. The dues that the club collected were sent into the international chapter of Junior Civitans to benefit research projects. When asked about the Junior Civitans Club, Jenny Folks stated, "My favorite activity the club does each year is Adopt-a-Family because we get to go to Wal-Mart and shop for presents."

HAVE A HEART Wrapping presents during the weekend before Valentine's Day, senior Annette Randall prepares to wrap a jewelry box. The gift wrap booth set up in Spotsylvania Mall raised money for the FACES project. "I enjoyed seeing all the jewelry that men bought for their wives and girlfriends, and it felt good knowing that the money was going to help a good cause," stated Annette.

PLANNING IT OUT. During an officers meeting, members of the Interact Club plan the agenda for the next meeting. They met weekly to discuss new projects and upcoming events. "Interact is doing very well this year; we have a more dedicated membership than we have had in the past. I enjoy being vice president because it is fun to help plan new projects for our club to take on," stated Crystal Adcock.

LISTEN UP! As members listen, junior Erin Price talks about an upcoming project. The Interact Club was involved with numerous events throughout the year including bowling for Big Brothers and Big Sisters, working with Head Start, and volunteering at the local homeless shelter. When asked about Interact, Erin commented, "It's not your typical club, you get to do community service and you get the satisfaction of helping others."

Students Find Historic Answers Questioning the Ages

LOOK AT THIS! At the Christmas party meeting for the History club, sophomore Brie Ward looks at a newspaper with sponsor Mrs. Debbie Sullivan. When I thought of the History club, that fat textbook and sleep came to mind, but it wasn't all what I had expected. Interesting disscussions and fun little projects gave me a different outlook on a previously boring subject, Brie admitted.

WHAT'S SO FUNNY? Laughter puts a new light on a December meeting as Leslie Machado shares her opinion with Mrs. Debbie Sullivan. Leslie comments. The History club is an overall educational experience, Mrs. Sullivan makes it a lot of fun. My favorite part is in the spring when the foreign officers speak to the classes because I get to learn a lot about their countries and different cultures.

HANDS ON BUZZERS! At a February academic team meeting, seniors Amber Roth, Nathan Meixler, and Josh Arthur answer quiz questions on U.S. presidents. "I'm Co-Captain so naturally I'm good, I also make the team look good, which is equally devestating to the other team," Josh explained.

THE GREAT ONE SAYS... Junior Becky Clark and senior Linda Bolling wait their turn as Mr. Dave Arthur quizzes the other students at the academic team meeting. At this meeting they were focusing on U.S. presidents. "I like Academic Team a lot! It provides me with interesting and useful facts to store in my mind," Becky said.

I KNOW IT! Sonny Bunch buzzes in at an academic team meeting on March 2. Usually meetings occur every Tuesday in Mr. Arthur's class room. Here the members are consistantly quizzed about many topics to prepare them for competitions. "Academic team is a great learning experience. I get to learn a lot of things that most people don't know, just by going to meetings and getting quizzed," Sonny commented.

LOVE IS IN THE AIR Waiting her turn in line, sophomore Joanna Bartz is standing behind sophomores Jennifer Daugherty and Michelle Lynn while they purchase carnations. For many people finding exactly what you wanted took a little thought. Joanna commented, "French Club is a great way to practice the French language we learn during class and also to have fun." The French club sold carnation orders during lunch to be delivered on Valentine's day. Like other clubs the French club participated in many fundraisers to raise money for various activities.

HANG IT UP Working hard to hang up posters that promote the French club's selling carnations for Valentine's Day, senior Alisa Burns is putting this poster above the stairwell. Alisa chose the stairwells because they are main areas that each student walks by everyday. "The flower sales were fun. Everyone worked together very well. We didn't do as well as we hoped but it was still fun." Alisa said.

"Spanish Club is a great opportunity for students to develop an indepth understanding of the culture of Spanish speaking countries. At each meeting we discuss a different country and talk about its culture, music, and prepare some typical dishes to share."

MMMM...Eating a quesadilla senior LaVelle Williams talks to fellow senior Spanish Club officers Kelly Snedecker, Courtney Loy, and Lindsey Loy about what activities to have at the next Spanish club meeting. The Spanish Club met once a month and each meeting they ate Spanish food and listened to Spanish music. Kelly and Courtney said, "We love all the cultural food." The officers tried to do things to make the meetings informative and fun.

WHERE'S THE FOOD? Helping herself to some paella supplied by the Spanish Club officers, junior Marie Rosado wasn't the only one eating the delicious Spanish food. One of the the club members favorite thing about their monthly meetings was all the different types of food. Desiree Currie added, "I like the Spanish Club because I can try cultural foods I would not have otherwise encountered."

LAVERA OR NOT LAVERA? Senior Annette Randall and sophomore Ryan Depew discuss what to do for the car wash. This year Ryan was the president of the Latin Club and Annette was the vice-president. "The car wash was a ton of fun! We raised money and got a nice tan at the same time," remarked Annette.

ALONE AT LAST! After the German Club meeting in February sophomore Kellie Friday goes over her recent notes from the meeting. The club discussed future fundraisers and upcoming events. "I decided to join this club because I wanted to learn more about my culture. Not only that, I had the advantage of meeting new people and making new friends," Kellie remarked.

WHO'S GOT CLEAN UP? At the February Latin Club meeting, sponsor Chryse Davis and senior Chrissy Ellet look for a clean-up crew. During the Saturnilla (Christmas Party) the members ate, drank, and conversed in Latin.

DO NOT PASS GO! At a January German Club meeting, sophomores Christopher Yurchick, Deanna Heitzman, Michelle Linn and freshman Jennifer Gillespie decide what to sell for the fundraiser. After making the decision about what to sell, rest and relaxation was needed, so they took part in a game of monopoly in a foreign language. "I joined the German club because! like the language and culture," replied sophomore Deanna.

READY, SET, WRITE! At the Latin Club meeting in December, sophomore Kristin Benson and freshman Jennifer Parsick race to see who knows the most Latin words and phrases. In the Latin club, students learn Roman culture, and how to read and write Latin. I joined the Latin Club because it was something I thought would be fun and so far I have really enjoyed it, commented Kristin.

LET ME EXPLAIN! During a Wednesday meeting after school. Junior Lori Sparks explains how she got the correct answer to a practice math problem to the other members. "I am here to expand my horizons," Lori explained. During meetings the students expanded their knowledge and understanding of mathematics by completing several advanced worksheets. Senior Ann Zheng stated that. Math is the base of all courses and I love it because it is interesting and very useful.

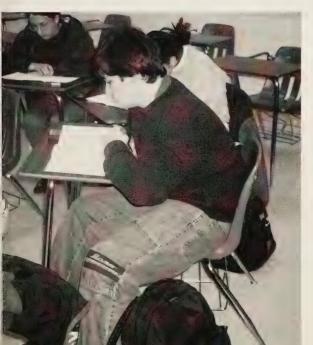

WHAT NOW? As president of the science club, Amy Jennings discusses issues that need to be addressed on that day's meeting with the other club members. Science is interesting to me and it's a good way to meet other people that enjoy the same things."

SEEING IS BELIEVING During a Thursday meeting, senior Michelle McLeese trys to find her position in the room by aligning a toothpick to lines on the front board. Michelle commented, "In the two years of being in the club I have had awesome experiences."

WHERE AM I? At an afternoon meeting, sophomores Tom Gibson and Steven Rudolph participate in an activity to find their position in the room with a toothpick. "Science club has been awesome. The experiments and activities are pretty cool," Tom admitted. "Science club is pretty cool because we do a lot of cool experiments that I can use later on," Steven said.

WHAT COULD THE ANSWER BE? Junior Kevin Kameda sits and ponders the possiblilities to a practice problem at an afternoon meeting. Kevin admitted, "I am here to give Lori a ride home and it helps my math grade." The math club receives several practice worksheets to work on during the meetings. They then go over the answers and check their work. "It is really interesting to find answers to problems that you have never seen before," Lori Sparks added.

WHICH WAY? Senior Tiffany Diego and her teammates try to find their way out of the maze, which they ended up finishing before the others. The corn maze gave us a chance to demonstrate our leadership and unity as an organization, we showed those schools we were just the best," Tiffany said. DECA goes to the corn maze every year to compete against other area school teams around the area.

LEGO MANIAC Senior Aaron Capizzi builds a truck out of powered Legos. He took a generator and plugged it into a circuit board to power it. "I really like TSA. It allows for all social segregation to fall, and the international love of technology to prosper," Aaron commented.

PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER TSA president, senior John Chirhart and senior Jason Hough try to get their program up on the computer, while senior Aaron Capizzi tries to help them out. "In TSA we use advanced engineering cubes (Legos) to find solutions to everyday problems," John said.

Their main event was the food drive which turned out to be a great success. "We are working hard on an opt out program for dissecting animals. We are trying to raise money for computer programs so that students can see how to dissect animals without having to harm them," Scarlet explained.

WHAT TO DO Junior Kevin Kameda gives ideas about fundraisers during the Animal Protection Club meeting in February. Members decided after voting what fundraisers they would like to have for the spring. They decided that a car wash would be the best choice because they were expecting great weather. "I joined the Animal Protection club because I wanted the cool t-shirt," said Kevin.

Research! Research! Before a debate, juniors Leslie Machado and Stephanie Hatlem research their topic. The girls needed to know about all sorts of things so they could be prepared for surprises. "I like debate because often we get to speak on topics I minterested in," commented Leslie.

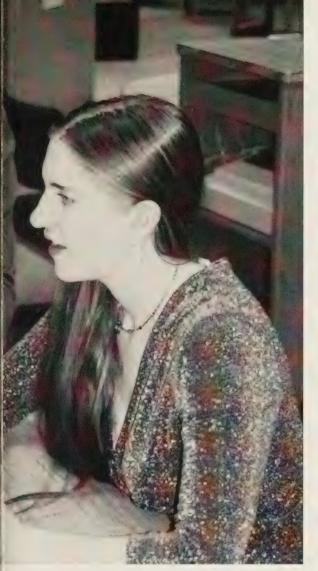

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT! While practicing for the Legend Storytelling portion of the District Competition, sophomore Nikki Carpenter practices telling her story. She chose "One Day, One Night" by Joe Hayes. Nikki said, "I was happy with how I did in Districts. I got fouth place out of eight competitors." The competition could get rough sometimes and the more that the stories were practiced, the better it became, making it more likely that the students would do better in the competition.

DECIDING THE PROS AND CONS While preparing for his debate, senior Joe Marsico tries to think about how his statements could be refuted by the other side. Debaters had to be ready to take either side of a question, and had to be prepared to detend their position, whether they agreed with it or not.

STRATEGY SESSION Preparing for their upcoming debate. sophomore Cassandra Smith-Christmas and freshman Danica Horrell discuss strategy. When asked why she liked debate, Cassandra commented. It's really a great deal of fun to go into a room and argue with people you we never met before." In a debate match, each member has to argue for and against a given topic. The match goes to the team who does the most convincing job.

STUDENTS AGAINST DESTRUCTIVE DECISIONS

SADD is an organization that makes the student body aware of the effects of drinking and driving by providing them with things like an informational video and a day specifically set aside to remind students of the problems. That specific day was called Blackout Day (the major activities SADD did this year) which took place on Thursday, October 14.

It was difficult for members of SADD to get their point across to so many people. It took time, effort, and a lot of organization.

Throughout the year, SADD did their best to meet their goals. They did not quit doing what they did until they had reached their goal and that was to make everyone realize that it is not smart to drive drunk or to drive with a drunk driver.

SADD members agreed that it felt good to know that they were helping for a great cause. They also agreed that if they only helped a few people, it was well worth it!

Students Face Driving Reality The Struggle Continue

Spread by Brian Goque

WHY ME? Senior Jennifer Pillion steps out of class to become Grim Reapers Sarah Miller's and C.C. Compreda's next victim on Blackout Day. After she accepted her fate, she silently went back to her class. She became gloomier as the day proceeded. Jenn stated, "It wasn't a good day because I was not able to communicate throughout the day."

CHOOSE WISELY! Senior Jeff Wills receives his balloon from senior Melvin Allen and junior Jason Levister and chooses which sign best fits him on Blackout Day. There were many students that were chosen as victim of drunk driving. Many of them were sad that they were pulled out of class and chosen as a victim. "Going through the entire day was depressing," exclaimed Jeff "because it's like you're not there and I was just watching what was going on."

NEXT VICTIM! Grim Reapers Melvin Allen and Courtney Loy march on to claim their next victim on Blackout Day....Jason Heisler. They've claimed many victims, one by one. Most of the reapers had fun. "Participating in Blackout day was fun," Courtney exclaimed, "but also serious so it would have a big impact on other students."

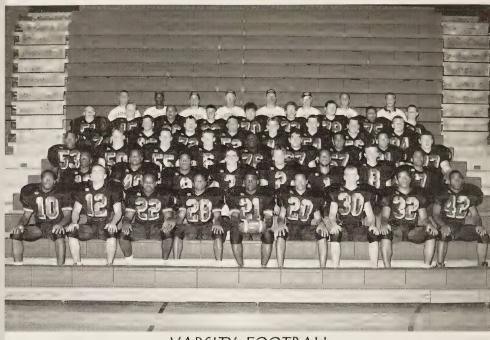

PINNED! Senior Tonya O'Leary stops by Ms. Bowery's class on Blackout Day and pins junior Abbey Cunnigham with a black ribbon. The ribbon meant that the student wearing it was considered a victim of a drunk driving accident. Tonya said, "When you get pinned you represent that you have just been killed in a drunk driving accident and will be an example for the rest of the student body." The victims were not to communicate with anyone but teachers and other dead people throughout the day.

SURPRISE! Seniors Calista Kilcup, Tonya O'Leary, and Courtney Loy surprise junior Jessica Meadows during her science class. Jessica was treated just like the other victims who were chosen. "It was a very sad-day for the people that we chose," Calista exclaimed, "because if those people did die then it'll make the people that know them depressed!" After claiming Jessica as their next victim, the grim reapers continued with their job of collecting more people for Blackout Day.

The Varsity Football Team Was on the Run

Shread By Colleen Krenns

WHEN IT RAINS IT POURS On the October 22 game against James Wood, the Blackhawks were forced to postpone the game until the following afternoon. Senior Arnelle Thomas #42 warms up with fellow teammates Juan Parker #16 and John Morgan #6. We were more pumped up then we had ever been before and we were ready to win, said Arnelle. The Blackhawks indeed were pumped up; they blew James Wood away with a final score of 46-7

TIME OUT During a time out at the varsity football game against North Stafford, head coach Tom Berry talks to player Juan Parker #26. Coach Berry tries to give us players as much encouragement as possible. as well as guiding us in our plays. Time outs are for correcting our faults, as well as helping us on our next play as well" said Juan.

RUSHING During the October 1 game against Stafford, the Varsity football team scrambles for control of the ball. The Hawks put up a good fight to take the win over the Indians 35-14.

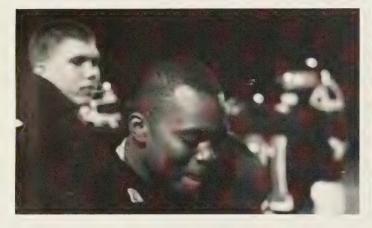

MAN OF STEEL.

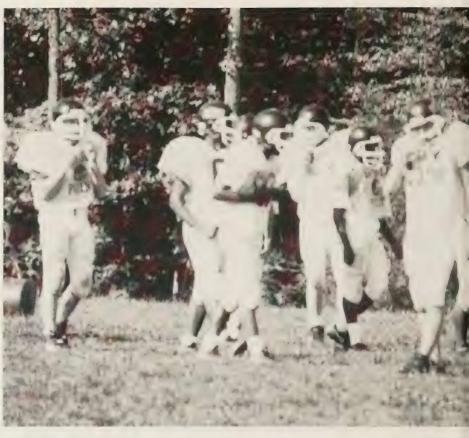

Senior Jeff Tate #1 drives forward on a quarterback keeper during the September 24 game against North Stafford. "Sometimes when the pressure of the moment builds up, the only thing you can do is hold the ball and run as fast and as far as you can," commented Jeff. Despite a strong defense by the opposing team, the Blackhawks won the game 7-0. Photo Courtesy of The Free Lance ~ Star

ROUND EM' UP At practice juniors Brandon King #43. Kevin O'Connor #12 and sophomore Jason Holmes #30. Poug Bond #51, and several other teammates stand waiting for their turn to run. JV football was the most fun that I've had in a long time. Poug Bond mentioned at one of the practices.

IT'S A MATTER OF ATTITUDE Contemplating the team's next play, junior Brandon King #45 smiles at the thought while sophmore Doug Bond #51 looks on. The guys really practice hard and they give 100% and that's all you can ask for," Brandon stated.

SPEEDY During the last JV home game,
November 1, sophomore Ponnie Caldwell #82,
runs out to catch a ball.
When asked about his personal season, Ponnie commented, "JV is an experience that will help me next year on varsity."
The Junior Varsity team's record of 1 win and 6 losses didn't reflect the level of hard play the team put in.

PUMP IT UP During the off season, Jervar Kendall helps Fitz Sajous lift weights in the school weight room." This is what I do in the off season to get bigger, faster and stronger," Fitz remarked. The team members did conditioning all year long to keep in shape for the season.

GO BLACK HAWKS, FIGHT! Wearing a varsity jersey for the final game of the season, Tim Pryor #32, watches the game. "We weren't very successful, but the main part was we had fun and learned a lot. I got hurt and the girls gave me a lot of sympathy," Tim commented about the season.

GO, FIGHT, WIN... Running through drills at practice on October 15 freshmen Nick Carlson (41) and William Sutherland (70) do their best to keep up with freshman Jarvis Powers (30) as he runs toward the end zone. "Blocking was one of our priorities. This is how we got a lot of rushing yards during our games," commented Jarvis. Nick commented, we worked really hard on our defensive skills and it payed off during our games." The mighty Black-Hawks had an awesome season finishing with six wins and two losses, but also a rough one due to the rain conditions. They had to reschedule three games and they didn't get to play Fauquier this season. "We've played real well this season. We've come a long way as a team and I think we're ready to move up to J.V. next year," freshman Brian Foley(11) said.

GET READY, GET SET, GO. The defensive line, freshmen Russell Pallesen (82), Kyle Hamm (56), Sean Godfrey (76), and Andy Nelson (50), get ready to attack during an afternoon practice. Kyle said, "We went over our defensive strategies with Coach Lear during our practices so we would be ready for our games."

KICK THAT BALL. Freshman teammates Argeall Durham (21) and Russell Pallesen (82) practice field goals on October 20. Argeall and Russell were doing this to to prepare for an upcoming game against Potomac. 'I like being a part of the field goal team because I don't have to go into a 3-point stance. Russ said.

PRACTICE, PRACTICE, PRACTICE. During an afternoon practice, freshman quarterback Billy Webber (27) takes a snap from his teammate, freshman Christian Bufford (77). Christian stated, "At our practices we come off the ball really hard which ends up helping us during our games."

D,D,D, DEFENSE. On October 25 freshmen Jarvis Powers (30), Johnathon Yeisley (87), and Marcus Taylor (32) prepare to go into the game against Potomac High School. The Black–Hawks lost 35–21. Brad Matson (63) remarked, "the team tried really hard, and the defensive line got six sacks."

WHAT A CUTIE! On October 15, during field hockey practice, sophomore Carly Priscoll watches Coach Kitty Hughes son. Jake take his first steps. Carly said, "Over the summer he would come to practice and just sit there, but towards the end of the season he was up more and then he finally started walking. Since it was his first time walking, it was really cool that he did it when we (the team) were there.

UP AND OVER! At Stafford Senior High School on October 12, senior Amanda Meadows (5) dodges the ball. She tried to avoid getting hit with the ball so she didn't recieve a penalty. It was hard to avoid penalties, because the other team gots a free shot. "It's important for field hockey players to be agile so they don't get hit with the ball," stated Coach Hughes.

HEY! THATS MINE! During a game against Colonial Forge on October 21, junior Michelle Babuschak (15) races to be first to the ball. They won their second game against Colonial Forge 3-0. Coach Kitty Hughes commented, "This year the team was much more aggressive than the previous year and they showed it in this game."

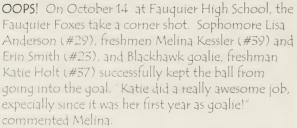

DIVE IN. At the Stafford game on October 12, sophomore Sarah Lysher (7) fights for the ball with the help of junior Jessica Meadows (19), and senior Sarah Eberhardt (17). The Stafford goalie rejected the shot. Despite their attempts, they lost 3-O. "Even though we got close, we just couldn't put it in the net that day," commented Sarah.

DON'T FALL! Against Culpeper, on October 19th, sophomore Laura Wiederwax (10) advances the ball towards the goal. She was concentrating on the game so hard that she fell over after hitting the ball. "It's important for the links to get the ball into the circle for the forwards to score," Laura said.

SWEET DREAMS. On the sidelines of the hockey game on October 5th with North Stafford, freshman Jennifer Zetty decides to take a nap before the JV game starts. I was waiting for the varsity game to be over and I fell asleep!" commented Jenny, "I needed my rest before the JV game started." Although they lost to the Wolverines 5-0, Jenny played a great game on offense.

NEW FRIENDS. On September 2, before the first home game against Liberty, freshman Sarah Beuchert (#38) and Jennifer Zetty (#30) socialize. I really loved being on the field hockey team because I met a lot of new friends!" stated Sarah.

GET THE BALL! On October 12 at Stafford High School, the Lady Blackhawks take on the Stafford Indians. Freshman Suzanne Selb (#41) quickly steals the ball away from her opponent! "It is important to be fast and alert!" stated Suzanne.

WE STICK TOGETHER!

While waiting for the Varsity Field Hockey team to finish warming up, JV Field Hockey team members sophomores Lisa Anderson (#29), Aimee Winston (#26), Monica Campos (#35), Kristina Martino (#27), Candice Shipp (#28) and freshmen Holly Thompson (#36) and Suzanne Selb (#41) smile for a picture. "We have a lot of fun together while Varsity is warming up!" states sophomore Lisa Anderson," It gives us a chance to talk and eat before the game!" Aimee added, "I think that we all improved this season, and we learned how to work together!"

TALK ABOUT TEAM SPIRIT In order to pep themselves up before a game gainst Fauquier, the girls tennis team recites cheers. Dezaree Rainwaters said, "All the girls are really helpful and competitive."

SERVES UP. Junior Ashley Carter slams back the ball her opponent serves to her. The object was to make sure her opponent missed the ball while it was still in the in zone.

TORN SEASON Junior Mikhaila Riede watches her teammates as she nurses her injured knee. During the fall season, the tennis team endured some unexpected injuries to some of their most valuble players. "Although I was injured, I tried my best to come to every single tournament and practice, said Mikhaila. Even though the girls had a string of bad luck, they still had an exceptional season. "It was too bad I was out for most of the season, but next year, I'll make up for it by coming back twice as strong! added Mikhaila.

FULL OF BUMPS AND BRUISES

DRINK UP! After warming up for a district tournament, senior Adrienne Bory cools off by sipping some ice cold water from the cooler. Water was supplied at every practice and game for all sports so nobody became dehydrated. Adrienne said, "Drinking out of my tennis ball container is sort of my own little tradition. Basically, it's for good luck."

ALL YOU NEED IS A LITTLE PEP TALK Before starting her singles match against North Stafford, junior Dezaree Rainwaters receives a pep talk from Coach Mark Rice. Coach Rice said, "I like to talk to each girl before each match. If they are unsure about the match, I can teach them new strategies that may be useful to them."

INSIDE OUT? During the Colonial Forge meet in October. Chris Jones competes with his shirt on backwards. When Chris was asked about his shirt he replied. I didn't even notice till I looked down and started the race that my shirt was on wrong! This year at Districts the boys' team placed 5th, and the girls won top honors in Commonwealth District competition.

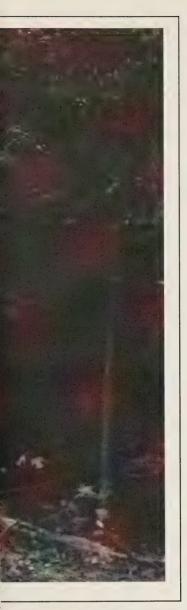

STRUT YOUR STUFF! Junior Jennifer Lowndes shows what she is made of at the North Stafford meet on September 21. "It was my first year on the team and it was really, really hard, but I learned a lot about myself and endurance. It definately was well worth it; I will be doing it next year," replied Jennifer.

ON YOUR MARK, GET SET, GO! At the Colonial Forge meet on October 19, the girls' and boys' teams take off for the finish line. Both the boys' and girls' teams beat Colonial Forge at this meet. "All the hard work and dedication pays off when I cross the finish line," remarked sophomore Jonathan Brinks.

WHO WEARS SHORT SHORTS? At the Handley Invitational in September, sophomore Jeremy Olmstead runs for the finish line. He said, "During the second mile, my lucky shorts and I perservered up the hill and to the finish line to complete the race." The boys' team finished eighth overall.

FOLLOW THE YELLOW BRICK ROAD! During a meet on October 12, senior Raygan Ludwig and junior Colleen Connell warm up along the trail together. "I like being on cross country because we all get along well and it is a very competitive sport," commented Colleen. Both of the girls were co-captians for the team this year.

BOUNCY BALL! During a match at Augustine Country Club, sophomore J.C Straub bounces his golf ball on his golf club. While waiting for his turn, J.C showed off his skill. I thought that it was entertaining and everyone seemed to get a kick out of watching me, "stated J.C.

FOUR! Junior Scott Coomes gets ready to drive the ball down the fairway of the 7th hole at The Gauntlet. The initial shot was an important one because it could help determine how many shots it would take to complete the hole. The farther the ball went toward the pin the better as this meant fewer overall strokes.

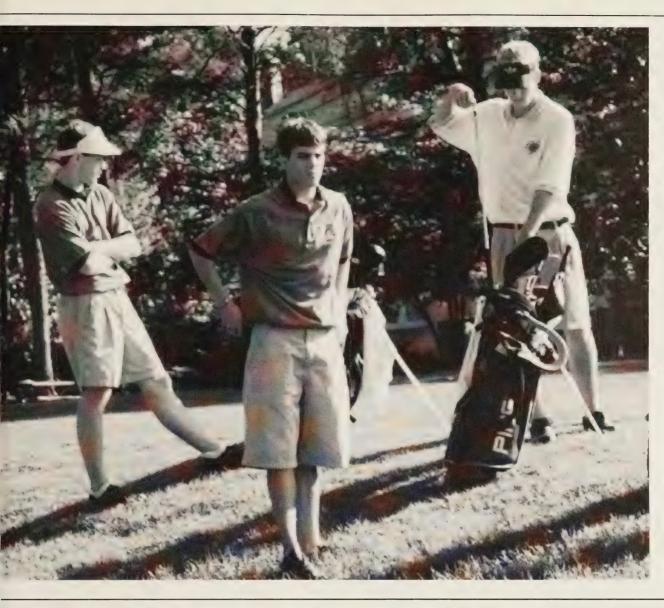

Brooke Point Golf Team Wins District Championship

Shooting for Par-fection

HURRY IT UP! At a match against North Stafford on September 20, senior Josh Arthur and sophomore lan Matthews wait for the other team to finish driving their balls. If we were to start walking to find our ball before the other people were finished, we might get hit by their ball, said Josh. Playing golf required patience."Sometimes it got annoying having to wait for someone to find their ball in the woods and they had to find it before we could go on to the next hole," added Josh.

ROUGH TIMES! Junior Matt O'Driscoll prepares to make a shot out of the rough and onto the green. During the match on August 31, Matt hit the ball into the tall grass; this made his next shot more difficult. "I enjoy playing golf because it teaches me concentration and I've learned how to control my shots," said Matt.

SWING! During a match at Aquia Harbor against Colonial Forge, junior Jason Barg hits the ball out of the sand trap. "Hitting the ball out of the trap was difficult because the sand made it harder to hit the ball and it wouldn't go as far either," Jason said.

First Serve Volleyball Makes It's Debut

HIT IT UP! Warming up before the North Stafford match, senior Jessie Marino sets up senior Erin Wederbrook for a hit. Erin participated in a routine drill that the team completed before each match. Volleyball revived my passion for sports. Although I'd never played before this season, I truly felt like a part of the team because all of us really bonded together, on and off the court," stated Erin.

What was special about the debut season of volleyball at Brooke Point?

"I had never played before so it was all new and interesting. At times it was frustrating and challenging, but overall we had a great team." senior Nicole Thompson

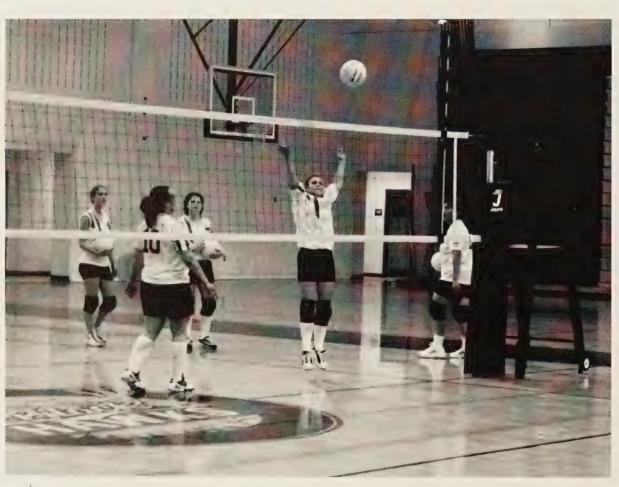

"Being part of the first volleyball (Girls in Spandex) team was both fun and a lot of hard work. We set the pace for the rest of the teams who will follow us and I think we set a good example. We worked hard and accomplished what we had set out to do."

senior Lindsay Drucker

"Volleyball is a sport for life. Introducing volleyball to Brooke Point High School was an exciting and challenging task. The girls played wonderfully."

Coach Cathy Van Valzah

I'VE GOT IT! Hitting the hall, junior Becky Clark, passes it over the net during a B-team match against North Stafford. When asked about her experiences on the team, Becky stated, All the girls basically learned how to play volleyball together for most of us had never played before.

PEPPER ANYONE? Warming up before the match against Colonial Forge, senior Michelle McLeese and other members of the team practice peppering the ball back and forth. "I felt we did really well as a team. We competed against schools who'd played for years and still managed to win sometimes," said Michelle.

PASS, SET, SPIKE!

During the match against the James Wood Colonels, captain Jessie Marino passes the ball to co-captain senior Brie Smith, so she can set up a hitter to make a kill. Jessie was the most experienced player on the team, having played for seven years prior to the season and on several Junior Olympic teams. Jessie also received 2nd Team All District honors from both the Potomac News and the Free Lance Star for her performance. "When the year started, I wasn't sure how good we'd be, but for a first year team, we did a lot better than I expected, stated Jessie when she was asked about the SHINE, MISTER? Before the October 15 football game, marching band members, sophomores Tom Gibson and Megan McCollough polish their marching band shoes. "Marching band members take great care in preparing for performances in ways such as shining shoes because it reflects our supreme dedication," Megan stated.

DON'T FORGET TO BREATHE. Junior Carlos Fernandez fills his lungs with just enough air to fill his horn at a home performance. Carlos exclaims, "The trumpet section wailed in the song 'Attitude Dance by Tower of Power. The trumpets give the show an A+."

I CAN'T HEAR YOU!

Drum Major, junior Catherine Turpyn directs the band in a practice after school. The band worked daily on the football field or in the junior parking lot. The band had to practice three times a week for almost four hours a day in order to be able to travel to competitions. Cathrine said, "At first getting up in front on the podium and conducting was scary, but once I got the hang of it, I found it was a lot

SALUTE! Drum Majors, juniors Amy Jennings, Catherine Turpyn, and Tabitha Phillips give a salute at a competition at Hermatige High. Amy said, "Mr. Armstrong assigned the drum majors the task of making up our own salute. Working together and perfecting it brought us closer together. We salute before every performance to signify our band is ready and willing to perform."

FOLLOW THE LEADER Sophomores Dan Korn, Kim Ward, senior Kim Matson and junior Stephanie Wools march to the beat for their upcoming competitions at Hermatige and North Stafford. Competitions took place September 25, 1999. Kim stated, "Practices are fun because you get to see your friends after school."

DUNK KING During the winter sports pep rally on February 11, dunk contest winner, senior Vince Love (34) performs his winning dunk. Following the dunk contest there was a three point contest which teammate Sean Courtney (3) won. At the end of the season, Vince continued his successes by averaging 15.5 points per game, being named to the first team all Commonwealth District, and being named to first team all Northwest Region.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT While warming up before the Woodbridge game at home, sophomore Jason Bratton (32) completes a lay up, while teammate Chris Logan (20) waits to grab the rebound. Twenty minutes before every game were devoted to warm up so that players could practice shooting and be ready for the game. When asked about the season Jason said, "The strength of this team is that we stick together and never give up."

THE BIG GAME While being trapped by two Stafford defenders, senior Jerry Butler (5) looks for an uncontested pass to teammate senior Panny Tryon (22). The teamwent on to beat Stafford by a score of 50–48, when Panny scored the winning lay up and the resulting foul shot. With this win, Stafford went to 17–1, and lost their third ranked position in the state.

REACH FOR THE STARS! At the beginning of the Fauquier game at home, senior Chris Behrens (44) jumps for the tip. The team beat Fauquier in an upbeat, aggressive game with a score of 62-59, paying the Falcons back for the loss to them earlier in the season.

TO SHOOT OR NOT TO SHOOT? Posting up to the basket during the North Stafford game. senior Nick Blake (40) decides whether to pass to his teammates or to go for the fade away jumper. Nick and the team went on to beat North Stafford for the second time by a score of 77–43, ensuring a first-place tie with Stafford for the regular season champion title. A coin flip later decided that Brooke Point would take first place, while Stafford fell to second.

A JOB WELL DONE! Seniors Danny Tryon (22), Melvin Allen (14), and Chris Logan (20) realize their last chance for a district championship banner is over as they sadly watch junior Mike Carosi (30) accept his commonwealth district runner up pin from principal Mrs. Kerry Tillery. The team came out strong in the first half, but ending up loosing by three in the last minutes of the game.

"I thought Colonial Forge games were the best game because the scores were so close." junior Darnell Washington (4)

Which game will you most remember?

"My favorite game was the one against Stafford at home. I will never forget this game. All our hard work payed off." junior PJ Kania (10)

"Woodbridge was my favorite game because we played very well against a great team." senior Vince Love (34)

HIGH FIVE! On January 20th against Stafford, sophomore Pan Miranda (50) attempts a jump shot. opponent in the process. Dan said, The other team couldn't quard me but I gave them a high five for trying. Against the top teams, our team stepped up and hit all the shots we had to. I think this team is the best in the district and we proved it. The boys won the close game 42-41 and finished the season with a 14 win and 4 loss record.

STAY ON YOUR TOES Sophomore Kyle Farley (14) shoots a free throw against Stonewall Jackson on February 16. The Black Hawks lost ther first game against Stonewall, but won their second game with a score of 75–38. "In the beginning I couldn't make a free throw to save my life, but by the end of the season I was shooting great!" Kyle commented.

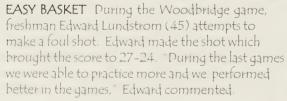

BACK OFF! During the Stafford game, sophomore Brandon Burton (31) dribbles the ball down the court planning his next crossover on his defender. When asked about his Stafford opponents, Brandon said. "They can't guard me."

WILL HE MAKE IT During an away game at Colonial Forge on January 14, freshman Marsell Williams (31) defends a player from the opposing team. I think that we were a good team, not great, but we really used our full talents in the start of the season. I think we could have done much better. Marsell explained.

HUDDLE UP During a game against Colonial Forge, Head Coach Mondell Hampton goes over tips for the next play of the game. It was a challenging season, yet successful at the end, Coach Hampton stated.

DO THE DEFENSIVE SLIDE During practice the team performs drills that worked on their defense. The players moved to the sound of Coach Hampton's whistle. "Even though we did not have a good season, we had fun and we will do better next year!" freshman Juston Brown (41) exclaimed.

KEEP AWAY During practice, freshman Steven O'Neill (53) blocks teammate freshman Timothy Mitchell (51) from getting the ball. The drill was to work on boxing out while trying to grab a rebound. Those players that missed the rebound while boxing out were forced to run "suicides" after the drill. "Practice was fun, but it was hard work and you have to have a lot of endurance for all the running. I had a lot of fun," Timothy explained.

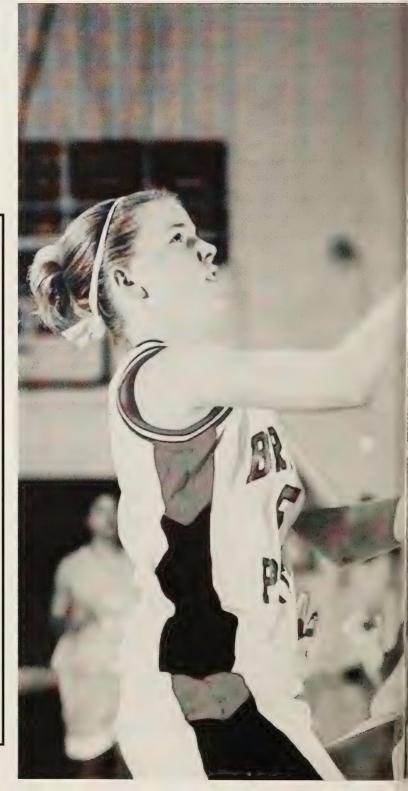

TAKE IT DOWN THE COURT. Dribbling the ball, junior Krista Lanata (20) drives the ball down the court to set up the next play. During the game against the Stonewall Raiders, which the team lost, Krista scored seven points. Midseason Krista broke her nose during a home game against Culpeper. Following her doctor's orders she had to sit out for three weeks and did not play in four games. "With all of our injuries, we still pulled together to have a good season," stated Krista.

LAY IT UP! Going up for a shot, junior Abbey Cunningham (5) completes a layup after racing past several North Stafford players during the teams first game against their county rival. With the 58-50 win over the Wolverines, the team's record improved to 9-5. Abbey averaged 16.1 points per game and scored a season high of thirty-six points in the home game against the Stafford Indians. When asked about the team, Abbey stated, "Even though we were small in size and number, we still managed to be number one in the district for most of the season." PEP IT UP! During a time out, head coach Sonia Williams encourages the team to step up their performance on the court. Before the timeout the team was behind several points to the Hylton Bulldogs. Despite making a come back, the team lost the game, 58–58. Team members expressed individual feelings. Senior Becky Campbell (22) revealed, "Each member of the team has her own individual strengths. We work well together as a team." Fellow teammate senior Amy Carlson (44) commented, "The team is close like a family." "Even though the season ended on a bad note, we still had fun," stated junior Michelle Babuschak (14). "We had a good year. I'm proud of everyone and I'll miss them," commented senior Amy Saniford (34). "We were the youngest on the team, and we learned a lot to prepare us for next year," sophomores Ashly Carr (10) and Amanda Lovell (40) stated.

I'VE GOT IT! Jumping up after a layup, senior Tiffany Lloyd (4) outreaches a Stonewall player for the rebound. As one of the team's centers, Tiffany was expected to rebound, and control the paint. She averaged 1.7 rebounds, two points, one assist, and one steal per game. Tiffany also had 17 blocks for the season. Despite an early season victory over the Raiders, the team lost their second game against the team. "This season was a tough one, but it was a great learning experience; we learned a lot together and became one. I'm going to miss everyone after graduation," said Tiffany.

GET OPEN! Looking for an open teammate, junior Melissa Barnes (12) looks for an uncontested pass during a home game against the Stafford Indians. Despite their overall winning season, they were unable to beat the Indians in both of their regular season games. The second home loss to Stafford marked the start of a four game losing streak that the team suffered at the end of the season leaving them with a district record of 7-3. As a point quard it was Melissa's job to control the floor, penetrate the opposition's defense to get it to the hoop, bring the ball down the court, and act as a middleman between the coach and the team. Melissa believed that, "This year we were stronger as a team because we worked hard to improve as much as we could." Photo courtesy of The Free Lance Star Sophomores Amanda Guckian and Ashly Carr. hind the ball back into play during the home game against Stonewall Jackson on December 2. 1999. Amanda said. addressiveness are key factors in this game. When we played Hylton it was such a close game that I had to dive in and tackle a girl to get the jump ball." Offense and defence are both very important in basketball because you need to try to control the ball as much as possible throughout the game in order to score.

REBOUND During a home game against Potomac on December 21, sophomore Kristina Martino anticipates where the ball will go after a shot by Potomac. Kristina stated, "Getting the rebound is very important because when you have the ball you are in control."

PASS IT Freshman TaNeisha Seward looks for an open player during the game against Culpeper on January 7, TaNeisha commented, The reason I play is because I love the game and I have fun, otherwise I wouldn't play.

JUMP SHOT Warming up before the game against North Stafford on February 17, sophomore Chavonne Thomas shoots the ball. "It's important that you don't slack off during warm up because you will most likely slack during the game," Chavonne stated.

GET THE BALL During the Fauquier game on January 11, sophomore Ashly Carr defends tightly against a Fauquier player. Ashly exclaimed, Guarding tight is important because if you give the other team room they will score on you.

I'M HERE, I PROMISE Freshmen Megan Neville. Lynn Amoroso, Sarah Marbach, Liz Elmore, and Katie Holt check in before replacing their teammates, during the game played on February 4, against Colonial Forge. "Wining 36-2 against Colonial Forge was one of the best games we played. I didn't think we would win by so much. The freshman girls had an outstanding season. They were 15 and 3, and played well as a team. They had a very supportive coach, who taught them a lot. The girls practiced hard everyday after school to finish with a winning season.

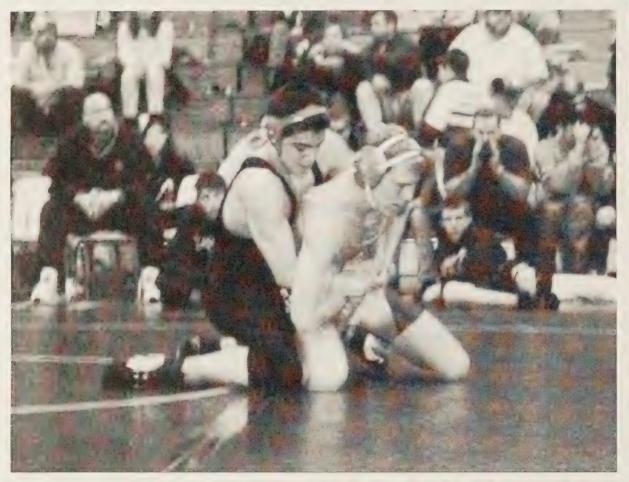

TIP OFF Freshman Sara Marbach tries to knock the ball to her teammates, but the Stafford opponent got to the ball first. "It's really important that we tried to play our best in front of our home crowd," Sara said.

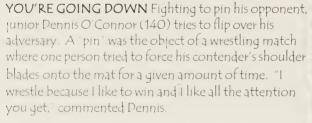

GETTING DOWN AND DIRTY Watching her girls go for a basket, Coach Lori Pasceri gets a closer look. "I was thinking, help me Lord, this team has worked so hard, please give us a bucket!" commented Coach Pasceri about the game. The girls went on to win the game, aided by their coaches' prayers.

BROTHERLY LOVE After his match, freshman Brian Foley (130) discusses it with his brother, graduate Tim Foley. We were talking about my match and how I could improve, said Brian. Even though he won his match there were always things that could be done better.

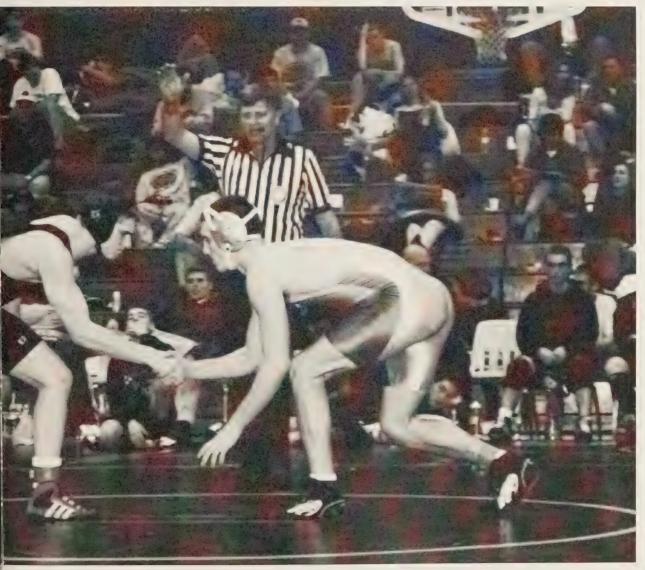

THE ENEMY COMES TO BPHS... and Jeff Wills (145) is there to meet and defeat him. At the meet against Stafford on January 12, the Black-Hawks pulled out another victory, helped along by Jeff's win and the wins of others on the team. When asked about being a captain, Jeff offered, "Being captain of the wrestling team was great but tough! I enjoyed every second of helping the team and being the perfect role model, but I had to make difficult choices like whether we should dye our hair black or blonde."

HIT ME WITH YOUR BEST SHOT. Shaking hands with his opponent, senior Kevin Coe qets ready for the 160 pound weight class match. The meet on January 8 at Woodbridge High School was a key win for the wrestling team this season. "The first thing I do before every match is pray that I will not be hurt and that I will have a safe match. Then while I am warming up, 1 visualize in my head what I am about to do so that I will be mentally focused and ready. Then Lask myself what is best in life and that is to crush your opponents," said Kevin. Wrestling was a very dangerous sport and bloody noses among the guys on the team were a regular occurence.

COUNTERS Sophomore Paul Ortiz, seniors Jeff Sinclair and Aaron Capizzi, junior Kevin Raabe, and sophomore Sean Paily stand on the pool deck waiting for the 500 freestyle to begin. The boys were counters for their teammates. "The whole point of being a counter is to keep count of the number of laps the swimmer takes, so that they don't take too many or too few. It is also fun, because you get a closer spot to cheer your team on," said Paul.

STROKE, STROKE, STROKE During their December 10th meet against Chancellor, senior Tommy Cregan swims the 500 freestyle. "I have been swimming since I was five, and I swim for both the school and the Quantico Polphins. Freestyle is my best stroke and the 500 is my best event, commented Tommy.

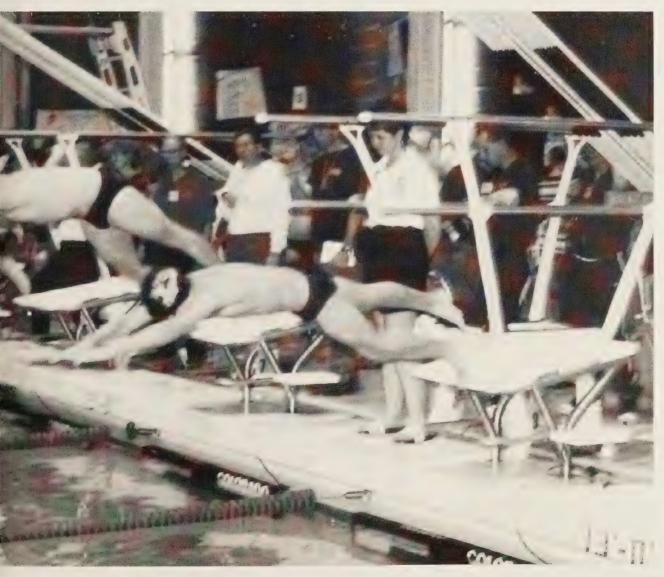

BACK OFF During the December 17 swim meet against Stafford, senior Jackie Knoll takes her mark to start the backstroke portion of her 200 medley. My favorite part of swimming was my reptile eye hologram goggles. Talk about intimidation! But seriously, the girls had a rough time this year. We lost a lot of our swimmers but we kept our hopes high and supported the boys through their victory at districts. Although Jackie did not win the race, she placed and earned valuable points for the team.

SWIMMERS TAKE YOUR MARK... Senior Joe Trujillo takes his center spot on the block as he prepares to jump off to start the 400 free relay at the Regional Meet which took place on February 4th. The meet was held at George Mason University Freedom Aquatic and Fitness Center.

TAKE OFF Senior Jeff Sinclair gets a good start off the block to begin his 100 meter freestyle race. This race included eight laps back and forth across the pool making it very tiring. "Swimming was really great because we won Districts for the second year in a row. No other team has repeated District champs except Brooke Point. We worked long and hard during practices even when we were just playing water polo and it paid off in the end. Everybody was happy with our undefeated season. I am going to miss swimming next year when I go to college although I might not miss the tough practices everyday," said Jeff. This was Jeff's swimming and he made it to Districts in a relay and an individual race.

HOW'D SHE DO THAT? Going through the basic moves of her balance beam routine, freshman Lara Chudoba does a back walk over. The beam was Lara's favorite event. This was my first and last year on the team because I'm moving next year, but it was definitely done right. The high point of the season for me was districts because I think I did very well even though we didn't qualify for regionals," Lara said.

ANY LAST ADVICE? Preparing for her routine on the balance beam, freshman Heather O'Connor takes time out to get some last minute pointers from her coach Ms. Becky Bowery. Heather stated, "It was my first year on the gymnastic team, and I was nervous at Districts, but I never could have done it without my

SITTING TIGHT Waiting patiently for their next activity to start, the gymnastic team watches the other teams finish up their routines. Senior Mimi Liddell explained, "During cheerleading I dislocated my knee so I was not able to participate at Districts. However, being able to watch the meet was just as much fun because I got to support my awesome teammates!"

ROUND AND ROUND Practicing her routine for the upcoming District meet, senior Katharina Jung concentrates very hard on getting each move right. Katharina stated. Practicing for three hours every day after school was hard, but all the hard work paid off and was definitely worth it in the end. The gymnastics team consisted mostly of first year team members, but did very well considering the lack of overall experience. The team went to districts and finished third out of the Stafford high schools.

STRAIGHT AS A BOARD Poing her uneven har routine at Districts, freshman Elsie Oldaker tries to keep her body perfectly straight so no points will be taken off for had technique. Elsie commented, "Being a freshman, this is my first year on the Brooke Point gymnastic team. Being on the team was really fun. Bars has always been my favorite and best event!"

WARM UP TIME

Junior Larry Smith. sophomores Jewar Kendall, Jon Morgan. Purham stretch and warm up during a practice after school. The team sometimes had hard practice days and others were easy. Although the runners liked the easy practices better, they almost all agreed that the hard days helped them to better prepare themselves for the track meets. Jervar said, Determination is the key to winning when it comes to track. Jon agreed and also said, The invitationals are the greatest part of track. They make all the hard work worth it.

LET'S WIN THIS RACE! During a winter Districts at Stafford Senior High School, junior Larry Smith and senior Jason Fludd run the 55 meter. Larry said, "Track deals with a lot of heart, every sport does. Without heart, there's no place for an athlete. The boys track team did very well throughtout the whole season, and won the Districts.

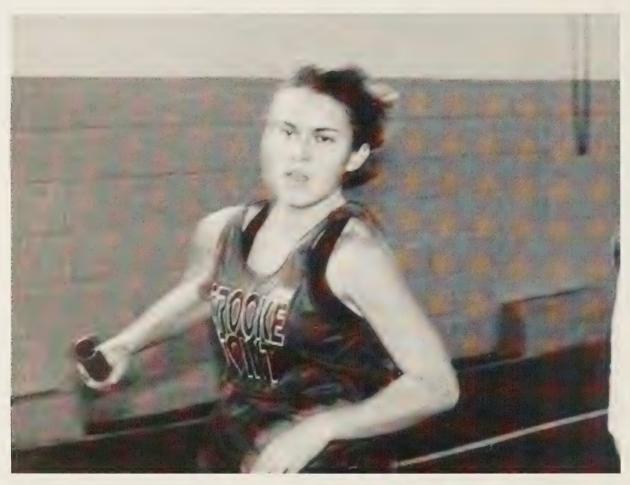

PRACTICE, PRACTICE. Sophomore John Pomeroy, and juniors Scott Comes and James Hardgraves warm up by running laps around the track during an after school practice. The amount of laps you had to run depended on what type of runner you were. John said, "I like track this year because no matter what kind of day it is, Coach Hall always says, "It's a great day to be a Track-Hawk!"

ON YOUR MARK. At practice on January 12, junior Latisha McDonald practices the 4x1. "I love track!" exlaimed Tisha. "Coach JC Hall was an exceptional coach and he was like a father to us, which made our hard practices very easy! We were like a big family and that made me love what I did. "Track–Hawks work hard to be successful because they know championships do not come easy. You have to have the mentality to run against anybody, anytime!" added Coach Hall. Girls track team placed first in Districts and then went on to Regionals which took place at VMI in Lexington. During Regionals the girls finished 2nd place overall.

HOW FAR WILL IT GO? At Districts on February 11, junior Priscilla Umana takes her turn throwing the shotput. "I participated in track because it was interesting, and I liked meeting new people. I also wanted to see who could hold out without quiting," she said. "The thing I didn't like about track was that we didn't get any support [from fans] and that upset me." Many of the meets were away from the school making it more difficult for fans to attend.

UP AND OVER. During practice on February 3, junior Rachael McIntosh practices her pole-vaulting. "The key to pole-vault is to go over the bar, not under. If you go under the bar, people call it limbo. Rachael said. "I love pole-vaulting, there is no other event like it. Besides pole-vaulting winter track included other field events such as shotput and discus.

STICK IT! During a January practice, senior Megan Wagner, junior Jenna Lowndes, and senior Jennifer Turville fly in the "wall stunt. This stunt was really hard at first. Megan said, but with teamwork, we all pulled together and we hit it easily now!"

THE MIGHTY PEP-SQUAD! At the basketball pep rally on February 11, seniors Megan Wagner, Jennifer Turville, CC Comperda, juniors Talia Taylor, Chantel Ramsey, and sophomore Jason Suss, all members of the competition squad, energize the student body with a cheer. The competition squad was made up of selected Varsity and JV cheerleaders who competed in the spring. The pep rally was awesome. I was really excited about doing part of our competition routine. Plus, it was great practice for our upcoming competition. The students at our school are full of spirit, so it is always a pleasure to cheer for them. Jennifer explained.

LOOK NO HANDS? At a competition practice on February 5, senior Stacey Shoeman practices her back handspring. "The best part of cheerleading is competition. We work hard all year, then go to show other schools what we have accomplished and represent our school," Stacey explained. The competition was the first weekend in March.

GIVE ME A BIG STUNTMAN! At a competition practice in January, seniors CC Comperda and Doug Taylor stunt with seniors Megan Wagner and Typhena Stull. "It is not as easy as it looks. Any man can hold her hand but only the elite can hold her feet." C.C. stated proudly. The male cheerleaders were essential for stunting.

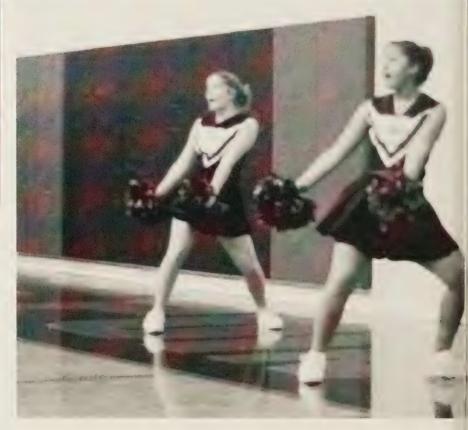

SUPER FLY! On February 10 at Stafford High School, sophomores Richard Turville, Jason Suss. Amberlyn Sasser, Jessica Anderson do their cheer in front of the fans. "It didn t take long for us to perfect the stunt, because we all work really well together! commented Richard. Being the flyer is so much fun! exclaimed Lisa. DEFENSE At the home game against Hilton on February 15, sophomores Lisa Anderson, Janelle Miller, Tom Gibson, Amberlyn Sasser, and Rachell Wehrle cheer on the girls JV basketball team. "I only cheered for basketball season, but I loved it because we're all friends." exclaimed Tom. Some of the squad cheered only for one season because they competed during the other season.

J-U-M-P JUMP UP! Sophomores Rachell Wehrle and Janelle Miller cheer with their squad at the beginning of the JV game with Cupepper on February 17. "Rachell and I have a lot of fun when we stand next to eachother during the games." commented Janelle.

WORK IT GIRL! On February 16, at the home game with Stonewall, sophomore Rachell Wehrle helps lead the Lady Backhawks to victory. "I loved cheering during basketball season, because I can actually watch the game, and it's nice and warm inside. exclaimed Rachell.

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT On October 31, the day before the JV Football game against Colonial Forge High School, sophomores Janelle Miller and Lisa Anderson paint a sign to support the football team." We really wanted to beat Colonial Forge so we decided to make a sign to pump up the football players!" stated Janelle. ianelle and I had a lot of fun making the sign! added Lisa. The JV cheerleaders went to all the JV games during the football season, both home and away.

WATCH AND LEARN

During the girls varsity soccer practice, Coach Walt Lenar corrects the team on the way they are kicking the ball. Coach Lenar commented, The proper way of kicking the ball is important because there are many different ways. I was showing the girls how to chip the ball over the defense." This was Coach Lenar's first season as head coach.

JUGGLING Sophomores Amanda Guckian and Laura Wiederwax are juggling the ball back and forth during a Thursday practice. Laura said, "Even though I'm the keeper I need to have a good first touch and juggling will help you with that."

KICK UM' HIGH Chipping the ball to her partner Junior Tasha Lenar works on her technique. Tasha stated, "Working hard in practice is important because you have to be able to use all your skills in a game. Chipping is an importent, but hard skill to acquire. Tasha often used it to cross the ball into the goal area.

GET A GOAL Freshman Katie Holt shoots the ball during tryouts at sophomore keeper Laura Wiederwax. Katie stated, "I was nervous about tryouts but after I was really happy when I found out I made it." Shooting was a very important aspect of the game because if you couldn't shoot you couldn't win. The team worked hard on refining their skills.

ONE TOUCH During the first day of practice, sophomore Carly Driscoll passes the hall back to junior Katie White. "Soccer is one of my favorite sports and I'm really excited about the season because I think we're going to have a good team this year," Carly commented. The team did many drills incuding the "magic box," which helped to improve touches when recieving a ball.

Working as a Team Go for the Win

FANCY FOOTWORK At tryouts on March 1, sophomore Bailey Holt dazzles the competition as she shows off her skills on the soccer field. Trying out included a lot of conditioning and running. Tryouts seemed a lot easier this year, but there was a lot of tough competition! commented Bailey.

I'VE GOT IT! Junior Joanna Emerson and sophomore Heather Jones play one on one at a March practice. At first I didn't think we were going to be very good, but at our first scrimmage we did so awesome! exclaimed Joanna.

JV Girls Kicked Their Way To Victory

Playing the Field

EAT MY DUST! On March 3, freshman Kailyn Sasser takes a shot at the 40al. Since it was the last day before cuts the girls worked extra hard to show off their skills on the soccer field. My favorite parts about playing soccer are side tackles and knocking people over!" exclaimed Kailyn. Before each game the girls did a cheer to help pump them up. They also said a cheer after each game for the girls on varsity. "Away games were really fun because we always cheer and scream on the bus!" commented sophomore Ester Ko.

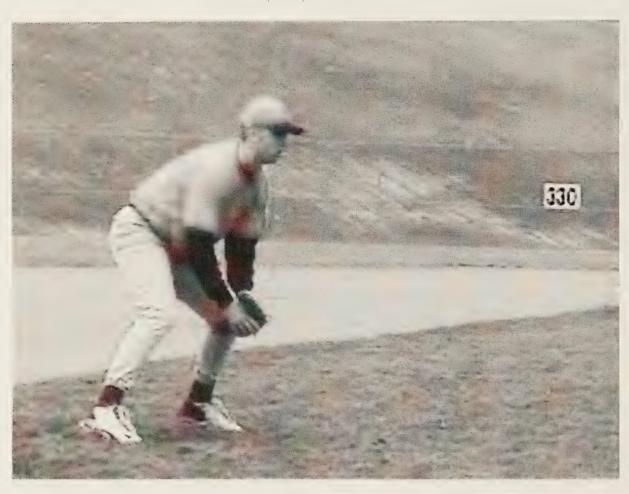

TAKING TURNS On March 2, sophomore Amanda Jones and freshman Katie Eherman wait for their turn to take shots at the goal. "This drill was fun because we didn't have to run as much, and we got to practice shooting," stated Katie.

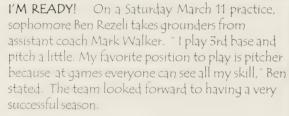

KEEPER! Freshman Kristen Stanford, sophomore Ester Ko, and freshman Lindsey Dunn practice their shooting and defensive skills during tryouts on February 29. This particular drill not only perfected their shooting skills, but it also helped the goalie concentrate on blocking the ball. Kristen commented, "This drill was challenging, but it kept me focused."

AWW At a March practice, senior Mike Eddy discusses varsity tryouts with sophomore Brian Parker. "Baseball is a close sport. It helps a lot if you are close with your teammates. I was helping him out. He is an underclasseman and it was his first time trying out for varsity," Mike replied.

TOUGH DAY! At a March baseball practice, juniors Ben McKeon and Robert Gunning, and sophomore Richard Turville come in from running sprints. "We should have a good team this year, we have a lot of talent," Richard commented. Running sprints was a very important part of practice.

PERFECT PITCH! On March 6th, sophomore Thomas Marcy practices his pitching skills. "I think I am a good player, my teammates make me even better. You need skill and knowledge to be a good player. The game of baseball is 90% physical and 10% mental, "Thomas explained.

BAT BOYS Freshman Steven O'Neil practices his batting skills. Baseball practice not only consists of catching and running but it also involves knowing how to bat. Baseball is my sport. I like to pitch and I also play left field. I dream of being a professional someday," said Steven.

BUCKETS OF FUN! During tryouts in February, freshman Brad Longman helps rid the field of baseballs. After practices the boys were responsible for putting away their equipment and making sure that the field was in top notch condition. "I think as a team we work good together and I enjoy playing baseball," remarked Brad.

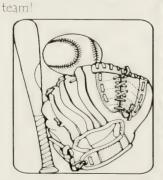

tryout practice in March freshman Ben Santana tries to catch a fly ball. "I think baseball is a very interesting sport. I have never really played and I just thought it might be something to expand on. Talso really wanted to learn the sport," commented Ben. The team this year was coached by Mike Cullens. I was just looking for a chance to help Brooke Point JV team take off." This year on the baseball team Nathan played catcher for most of the games.

HELPING HAND Learning the correct formation for pitching, freshman Alex Luther practices with one of the assistant coaches. "I really enjoy playing baseball. I have played for two years now. Not only does it help keep you in shape but it's also another good way to work as a team," stated Alex.

BATTER UP! During a practice for varsity softball, runior Sharon Briggs attempts to hit the ball while junior Melissa Barnes, as the catcher, waits in case she misses. While Sharon was at bat, junior Stephanie She watched the ball and practiced her swing. This gave her an idea of how the pitcher was pitching at the time. Practice hitting with the girls in their respective positions was important so that weak spots could be seen and concentrated on. For the first week of practice no one knew if they were going to be on the varsity or junior varsity team because the coaches wanted them to get a chance to play together before the coaches decided. "It was frustrating that week because we all wanted to know which team we were on, said Sharon.

PITCH IT! During a practice on Thursday, March 16, sophomore Jennifer Rudy pitches the ball to the batter. "Rudy" as her fellow teammates called her, was doing her best at getting the batters out. She knew, though, that if the batter hit it, the others on the field would support her. "It was fun playing on a team where we were like family, we backed each other up," said Jennifer.

SMILE! Juniors Michelle Babuschak, Abbey Cunningham, and Carrie Robinette, along with senior Ali Barg watch as a fellow teammate tries to hit a ball. They were making faces to try and distract the batter from keeping her eye on the target. Having fun kept the girls sane on stressful days before games.

HIT IT! While working on a batting exercise, junior Michelle Babuschak swings at the color ball that the caller throws up for her. This drill kept the ladies on their toes and let them try to hit the ball at a variety of heights. "Drills helped us go back to the fundamentals," said Michelle.

SWING! Junior Melanie Enos tries to hit a ball that is pitched to her from a machine. This machine let the coaches know how the girls were batting and gave them an idea of what needed to be worked on to improve things such as stance or swing.

The Girls Worked Hard to Take the Season Further

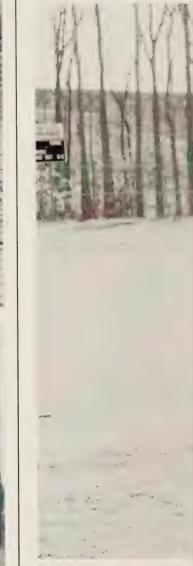

Hitting It Hard Taking It Far

I GOT IT, I GOT IT Freshman Samantha Maxfield practices catching the ball to warm-up before practice began on March 11. It was important to warm-up so that the girls would not throw out their arms before a game. Softball is my life. I love to play the game. It's such an energy rush, "Samanth said.

WAITING ON THE FIELD Freshman Stacey Malamisura throws the ball to second base. During practice on March 8 the girls worked up a sweat in 80 degree weather practicing drills after school.

SWING BATTER BATTER Freshman Haley Smith prepares to hit the ball pitched to her. Batting was an important aspect of the game because no points could be scored without good batters.

AROUND THE BASES During practice on March 9, sophomore Lisa Koons takes her base. The batter was walked so she was forced to move to second base. Lisa stated, "Softball is a lot of fun and is a good way to meet new people."

SERVES UP! Freshman Stephen Jones serves the ball to his opponent Sean Courtney during his after school tennis practice. When serving the ball the boys had to make sure the it went into the right section of the court Stephen said, "Playing with Sean was really intimidating because he's been on the team for four years and this is my first year."

NECESSARY ROUGHNESS After school during tennis tryouts senior Ian Sullivan takes his anger out on the schools tennis court fence. Ian was upset because he had just lost a match to teammate junior Tyler Robertson. Ian remarked, "Tennis is a great sport, but it's just not the same without Luke Wederbrook anymore."

TOUGH COMPETITION! Senior Sonny Bunch waits patiently for his opponent Coach Dom DeMaria to return the ball to his end of the court. All the tennis team members enjoyed having a little one on one practice with Coach DeMaria. Sonny explained, "This is my last year on the BP tennis team and I want to make the best of it."

STACKING UP!

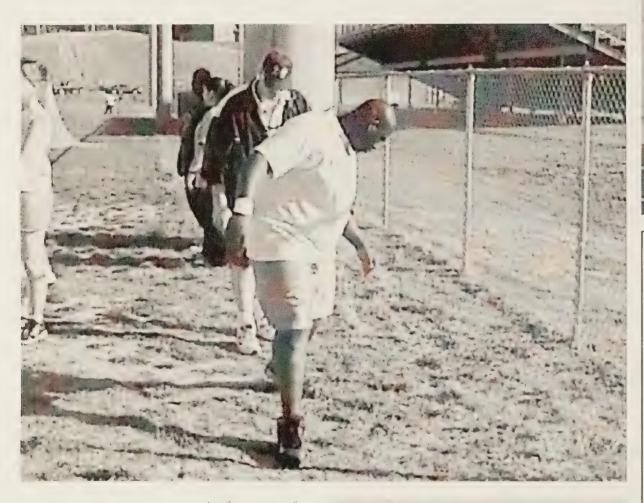

After the first day of tryouts the boys tennis team members stack up their equipment. The team has to help put up equipment after every practice or they have to run extra laps. Tyler Robertson remarked, "Everyone on the tennis team is cooperative. We all work together and have fun at the same time."

CONCENTRATION During the first week of track practice, junior Jason Levister works with Mr. John Kraus learning the correct spin for the discus. "I'm a pretty big guy and Coach Kraus is even bigger so I figured I'd listen to him about my form," said Jason.

MARK, SET, GO! Trackhawks freshmen Billy Webber, Adebamjo Fabunmi, and Josh Hall, and seniors Arthur Hayes and Micah Pavis, and sophomore Dean Tate complete team drills across the football field. "Doing team drills across the football field is beneficial, because it helps us refine our technique," commented Billy.

BUFF AND TOUGH During a long distance practice, junior Brian Baitis and freshman John Pomeroy run loops around the track. This track season is harder because we have a new coach, and he works us really hard, but it builds us up so that we do better in meets," said John.

STRETCH AND RUN Sophomore Jervar Kendall stretches out his muscles before track practice. I stretch to get better," commented Jervar. The Trackhawks did a lot of stretching in order to prevent injury as well as to keep loose between events.

KEEPING THE STRIDE Freshman Argeall Durham and sophomore Dean Tate sprint across the varsity football field during a practice. "We were running 100 meter work so that we could improve our times in the meets. It must have worked because 1 dropped a couple of seconds off of my time." said Argeall. "It also gives us a chance to compete against each other," added Dean.

NO LOOKING BACK

Racing down the track rumor Rachel McIntosh is concentrating hard on jumping the hurdles as quickly as possible without making any mistakes. Hurdles take a special amount of concentrating because the smallest mishap can significantly reduce vour speed. Last year the Black-Hawks were district champions and plan to defend that title. Rachel said. This year we are going to defend our District title and keep on moving closer to the state title.

READY, SET, THROW! Setting herself to throw the shotput, junior Scarlet Dangerfield takes final instructions from Coach Jim Ralph. Scarlet stated, "I have been throwing shotput and discus for the last five years and it has become one of my favorite things and a great love of my time."

DON'T TOUCH! Leaping high, senior Ashley Broin does everything she can to keep from touching the practice rope during the high jump drill. Ashley commented. I have been doing high jump for four years and it is one of my favorite events. I like the feeling I get when I'm going over the bar. It makes me

JUMP AROUND, JUMP AROUND Working hard during the conditioning part of practice, junior Shalonda Bowles and freshman Shaundra Johnson Jump rope because it helps to develop the major muscles in their legs which they use in running and jumping. Shalonda said, Jumping rope is one of the conditioning techniques used for our jumpers. The more I practice, the better my performance will be throughout the year.

RUNNING IN CIRCLES Keeping up the pace senior Alicia Burns and freshman Sarah Finney run what is called a rain loop in practice. On rain days the runners have to run two complete circles around Brooke Point and Stafford Middle School because the track is wet and it is hard to do anything else. Sarah stated, "This is my first year doing track and I love it, and how the coaches work us so hard. I want to do it all through high ROCKING THE CRADLE After listening to his coach, freshman Brad Matson tries out a new play that was just explained. Brad said, "I decided to join the lacrosse team because it was something new and it sounded like a lot of fun." Since lacrosse has become a school-sponsored sport more people have joined the team.

GETTING WARMER At tryouts, freshman Robert Kadis takes off one of his shirts. With the hot sun and lots of equipment the players got very hot. "The hardest thing about lacrosse is the pushups but getting to run around in a mask is lot of fun," said Robert.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Before practice juniors Kevin Davidson and Aidan Caldwell practice defense. Kevin, the team captain, commented, "Lacrosse is a great sport. It's all about teamworkand having a good time." In order to learn teamwork the quys practiced working together on passing and blockingalot during practice. A strong defense is important in lacrosse to keep the other team from scoring.

HIT THEM HARD During a practice on Wednesday, March 1, junior Chris Jones and sophomore Chris (Kit) Hockert take a break from running around. Kit, who played midi, says he likes that position because "he gets to hit people, lots of them." Lacrosse got very physical at times causing mostly minor injuries throughtout the season.

ON GUARD Before practice juniors Chris Bartick and Matt Hill "swordfight" with their lacrosse sticks. Since practice didn't start until 3:30 the guys had time to goof around. "Playing around before practice started was a lot of fun," remarked Chris.

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT! The Varsity Dance team definitely had spirit during the 1999–2000 school year. They showed it especially well during the regionals held in Maryland. Seniors Renee Hodgkins, and Jennie Drew, junior Ariana Moldovan, senior Sarah Miller and freshman Katie Hargreaves perform part of their regional dance routine with smiles on their faces.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT. Varsity Dance Team member junior Ariana Moldovan practices one of their routines after school. Ariana believes that Spending time with my teammates and working really hard, knowing that it pays off at competition, is the most important part of team work.

Sports

LET'S GO GIRLS! In Maryland at the Dance regionals, the Varsity Dance team performs. The girls did great at regionals, taking two first place awards, and one second place award. Sophomore Jamie Johnston said. The best thing about dance is having a close team and being good friends with them all."

SPEEDRACER The Varsity Dance team performs one of their routines at a home football game. It was one of the most complex dances that they performed this year. When senior Julie Parker was asked what she thought about the team this season, she commented, "This year was the closest team ever. We all got along. We hardly ever fought, but if we did fight, we always made up."

DO A LITTLE DANCE

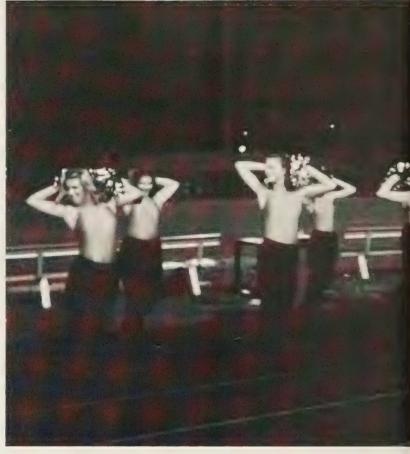

Juniors Crystal Adcock and Elena Gianulis, and senior Elizabeth Royston perform at a home basketball game. The team's hard work and dedication were rewarded when they traveled to California for competition. They represented BPHS but they also represented individual achievements. Crystal Adcock especially enjoyed her trip: "We did awesome at Cali! We were first time competitors and to walk away being top 10 in every category is definitely something to be proud of."

SHAKE IT During their first perfomance of the season at an evening football game, juniors Lauren Smith. Erika Staats. Erin Price, and sophomore Jessica Gilley perform their pom routine. As a co-captain, Erika was responsible for choreographing the dance herself during her summer vacation. "We worked really hard on this dance all summer to be ready to perform the routine," stated Erika.

GET READY Right before going out on the field for a performance, the JV Dance Team gets a final pep talk from one of their captains, Erin Price. "I love them all. Erin especially, she's the best. The whole team is full of awesome dancers and they're all whip, "freshman Christy Click said.

HUDDLE UP Before an afternoon football game on September 13, the JV Dance Team huddles to wish everyone good luck on their performance. "Before every game we get in a big circle and wish everyone luck. It's our way of preparing ourselves to perform," co-captain junior Erin Price said. The luck circle was a tradition for the dancers before every game.

JUST CHILLIN' Before a basketball game, sophomores Megan Gaskill, Hope Mitchell, Jennifer Church, freshman Ashley Helton, junior Erin Price, freshman Jenna Zimmer, and freshman Taisha Serrano eat their dinner before performing. "Dancing this year was really fun and we worked really hard. There were so many great people this year which made it fun and easy to get along with everyone," Ashley commented. Dinner parties were a frequent event for the team.

IN SYNC Performing in front of the crowd, freshman Jennifer Church, junior Lauren Swartz, freshmen Christy Click, and Colleen Wainwright, juniors Erika Staats, and Erin Price, and sophomore Kristen Cleven perform their competition routine. "Our team was really close this year, which I think made us do so well at competition," Lauren said.

WHAT? Practicing a routine after school, team members, freshmen Quanika Thomas, Charnece Lundy, sophomores Charisse Womak, Kenethia Brown, Taimiah Powers and junior Telina Harrison work on an old step. When asked about the team, Quanika stated, "It has been nice working with the team and we have good coaches." The team was coached for the second year by Mrs. June Prim and Mrs. Vanessa Williams. When asked about the team, Mrs. Prim stated, "This was a great group of girls to work with. This year I truly felt that we were a 'team' stepping as one." "It's not the number of steppers, it's the quality that makes the difference," said Mrs.

WE GOT IT! At a home boys varsity basketball game, the team performs during halftime. "Once you get out in front of the crowd you become calm. When you hear them hollering, it gets you pumped up," stated junior Telina Harrison.

HIP HOP LOLIPOP! During the winter sports pep rally, the team excites the crowd with a new step routine. The team was nervous before their performance, but, "We were surprised [the crowd] yelled for us," commented sophomore Kenethia Brown.

ROCK THE BELLS! Working on a new step routine, freshman Charnece Lundy, and sophomore Taimiah Powers practice for their March 24-25 competition. Practices can be frustrating, but in the end, it all pays off, stated Taimiah. Step Team practiced all year for their competition in the spring.

STEP ASIDE During an afternoon practice freshmen Quanika Thomas and Charnece Lundy work on a new step. The Step Team emphasized movements in absolute unison, so that all movements sounded like they came from one person. Charnece commented, "It's all about coordination and rhythm."

Never measure a man solely by the magnitude of his accomplishments rather by the strengths of his character and the goodness of his heart.

Accomplishments will fade with time but character and the capacity to love unconditionally last a lifetime. What you have done in so short a time pales in comparison to what you are capable of and will do in the future. You have the heart and spirit of a champion which will ensure a lifetime of success. The goodness of your heart will guarantee lifelong friends to savor the journey with.

As much as it hurts to let you go it would be unfair to the rest of the world to keep you to ourselves.

May life bring you as much joy and happiness as you bring us.

As you prepare yourself for the journey, that will be your life, I look back and I must say that time has passed much too quickly. I'm very proud of you. It has been a joy watching you grow into the beautiful, intelligent, caring, young woman you've become. I know that you have made my life fuller and that you will conquer all the challenges that are put before you. Thanks for always being the "CA-ME-KE-AN"!!

I Love You! Mommy

Fathers have a terrible time accepting the fact that their little baby girl, isn't so little anymore. I must confess, I am no exception to that rule. I will say, however, that I am extremely proud of the young lady you have become. Watching you grow and mature into the person you are, makes me especially proud to be your Dad. Much love and continued success.

Congratulations Jennifer (Kissyfur),
From the day you came into our lives we knew we were blessed. Your spirit and devotion has brought you to this day and will carry you into the next chapter of your life. We have had the priviledge of raising you and watching you grow into a beautiful young woman. Now that it is time for us to share you with the rest of the world, we know that you will continue to make us proud. We want you to know that milestone after milestone, we will always be here for you.

You have and always will be the light of our lives.

We love you! Mom, Dad and Richard

From the first moment we laid eyes on you, our hearts were warmed by your sweet smile. You were our first child, and our only son. We have watched you grow from a carefree little boy to a responsible man. We have encouraged you to be the best you can be and you have always exceeded our expectations. We have tried to give you the foundation you need to build your life and we know that whatever goals you set for yourself, you will be able to achieve them.

We want to take this time to thank you for all that you have given, even without knowing it. The memories we have made and the love you have given are gifts we will always treasure. We thank you too, for the joy you have given us, for these are the things that matter most.

You are a fine son, a great brother and a friend. Not every parent can consider their child a friend and when they can they are the lucky ones. Thank you for being our son and thank you for making the last 18 years so wonderful.

We love you! Congratulations graduate!

Tips to help you survive in college:

Develop good study habits immediately!

Get involved with school activities.

Plan some free time in your schedule.

Don't room with a friend, so you have a chance to meet new people.

Work hard to get along with your roommate.

Don't take too many credits your freshman year.

Always know where the bookstore and library are located.

Don't wait until the last minute to write your papers.

Relax, and enjoy your college years, because they will probably be the best years of your life.

Katie's Nails! Hev Jess will you draw my spread for me. Where did all the cameras 40? Where's Sarah? How do you spell mesmerizing? Lauren don't you love the hay iunale! Did you ask Jeeves if you could sit there? Hey you guys! Was Kelly here, I smell mold? Can you please bring your senior ad stuff! Hi my name is Lauren, not pull up a chair. Where's Sam's Pizza? Dumb soda machines. I swear I pressed the button for orange soda, and I got this dumb water. Two diet cokes for one. Jenny's brief case. Combatibility. Q-tip head. Roxanne what's wrong with your camera, you have midget pictures' Nana Wehrle. Who can go to Photoart:' Tape in the dark room. The unforgettable "butt shots." Laura you s-t-1-n-k smell. Shirtless day, let's go take pictures. Would you like a hot pocket? Does anyone have any money. I'm a mooch? Mrs. Dodo. I smell something fruity. Pon t write on the negatives. Upper left, lower right. We need more JS head shots. The bubble! Justin loves only me. When you go to Photogrt, can you get me an application. Can I take the darkroom outside. Taping Lauren's cubby shut. Lost pictures at Photoart. Jenny's name written everywhere. Can I leave the people section blank. Clown laugh. Is there a baby yet? Stop bowl. I've got it i/k. We're gonna have a picnic on the cement block. I'm going to lunch to get quotes. Chew pins. Where is the note pad? Where is everybody, again? Sarah's hall of fame. I'm finally done, aren't you proud? I want to quit. What's your problem. Jessie's got a black belt in karate. The capital building backdrop. Lisa's and Amee's biology homework. Why does everyone look in here, we must be cool! Editor meetings in the dark room. Jessie's cubby. Moppin' Amee. Kelley and Tricia's projectiles. I'm gonna cry. Where's the ladder? Is it new and old or old and new? Um, excuse me. No double o words!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

COLOPHON

As part of their fourth quarter grade last year's yearbook class decided on Where the Old and the New Collide, becaues it reminded us of the changes Brooke Point would be going through next year; the new school in the area, the new sports district, and of course the new millenium. Jenny Folks along with three previous classmates developed the theme, with the input from the entire class also. The cover, designed by Jenny Folks and Julie Milleson depicts a huge blast; the graphic we chose to represent the theme throughout the book. Along with it is the theme itself, and our school colors; red, black, and white. Our spin offs further went with the theme as they all started with "blast" characteristics pertaining to the respective section. The endsheets attached to the silver blasts were the unique idea of Jenny, Jessie Marino, Annette Randall, Amee Brothers, and Lauren Pickard. The blast was once again carried throughout the book, including the folio tab. The black and white sports booklet against the color divider also represents the old and the new, as does the headings in the index which are used with the "old" and "new" fonts on the cover.

From the Editor's Briefcase: Can I have your attention for just a second! Anyways, I've enjoyed this year a lot. Our theme is the greatest, and the book is awesome!! You all have worked so hard, and should be proud of your spreads; well almost all of them. Thanks for your dedication, especially our after school group; without you (Annette and Lauren) I couldn't have stayed sane this year. Thank you Mrs. Wehrle and Mrs. Dozier for accepting all of my infamous ideas for this book. I'll miss you all, and remember to always, always strive for perfection!

Jenny

COLOPHON

The 7th edition of the Spectator was printed by Herff Jones Commercial Printing Plant in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The 313 page book, including the sports booklet, was printed on 80 pound gloss paper. Forty four pages were printed in color on 100 pound gloss paper, including the opening, student life section, dividers, and senior portraits. Our layouts were designed in Aldus Pagemaster 6.5 with Herff Jones software. The layouts were designed by Jenny Folks with past classmates, and done on networked Pentium 150 PC's with our new 19 and 17 inch monitors! Finally, they were printed with an HP Laseriet 4M.

All of our pictures were either printed in our infamous darkroom, or Photoart and WalMart, whom we thank for their quickness and understanding through our photo crises. All portraits, including those taken three times, were taken by Lifetouch Studios, with the exception of some senior portraits that were taken by Bill Buttram, Glen Graves, Express Photos, and Sunshine Photography. Instead of panels this year, we used Jenny Folks' idea of a booklet, using the team pictures Lifetouch Studios had taken.

We would like to thank the Free Lance Star for their donations to the sports section as well.

The Spectator is a member of the Virginia High School League and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, having received a second place from VSHL, and a gold medal and design, photography, and coverage honors from CSPA last year.

We would especially like to thank our Herff Jones representative Annette Rollyson, for helping us and answering our endless questions about endsheets, booklets, and our favorite dividers! Thank you also to Debbie Drobenak whose solved all of our problems at the Gettysburg plant. Thank you to our administration, Mrs. Kerry Tillery, Mr. Jim Stemple, Mr. Tom Nichols, Mr. William Boatwright, Mr. Chris Courtney, Mrs. Missy Peck, and Mrs. Terry Byrd who continue to support our widespread ideas. We would like to thank our bookkeepers Mrs. Sally Humphries and Mrs. Julie Cooper for understanding (possibly) when we forgot our pink slips. Thanks to Mrs. Carmen Pickard, Mr. Timothy Randall, Mrs. Mary Randall, and Mrs. Margo Agee for the snacks you brought us when we were hard at work and for trying to clean up the yearbook room. A special thank you goes to Katherine Wallace for helping with divider pictures, Mrs. Tracy Lawrence for donating the files and mailboxes, and Kristin Lawrence for tagging all those pictures. Last but not least a big thank you to Melvin Allen, CC Comperda, Pat McDaniel, and Shahrouz Nouri for continuing to brighten our days by stopping by the yearbook room for visits that brought smiles to our faces.

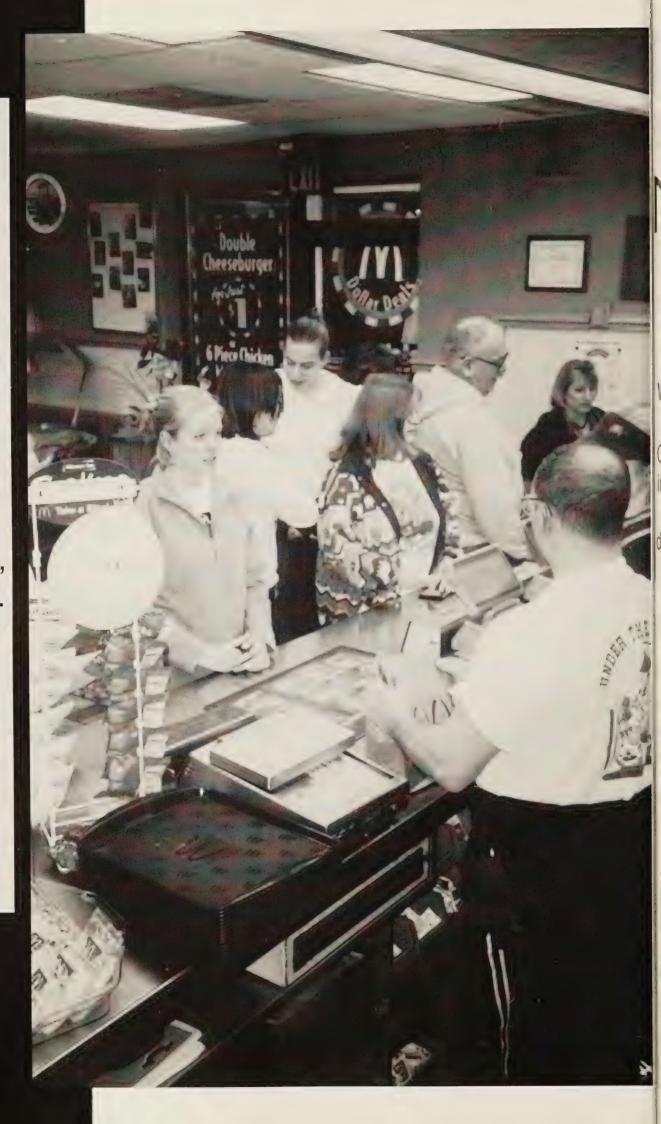

FROM MRS. WEHRLE—This has been an outstanding year and an awesome book. I have been very impressed by the "take charge" attitude of some of the staffers. Whenever a problem arose, there was a student who stepped in, without being asked, and just got the job done. I am very proud of everyone who has had anything to do with this years Spectator and I think you are the greatest.

FROM MRS. DOZIER—This year has been a wonderful experience for me. The staff has been extremely helpful. They made my initiation into the "Yearbook Club" a smooth transition by explaining headlines, copy, picas, deadlines, captions, etc. Their dedication to perfection has made this book a work of art. I am proud of them and impressed with the quality of work they produce. Keep up the good work.

CAN I TAKE YOUR ORDER?

At the second annual teacher work night at McDonald's, teacher Mr. Tom Coen takes senior Heather Cox's order.

New Collide Close, we adjusted and adapted to the many old experiences

We had gone through during the year. Students found they could still remain friends with companions who raveled to Colonial Forge. Team players faced the new competition set in motion by the boys winter track and swimming teams who had won districts two years in a row; they were the first to do so in this past decade. The school continued to excel in academics and were, this year, better prepared to face the SOLs. We survived and transformed our days at Brooke Point.....

A SAD GOODBYE Drama teachers, Mr. Stephen Carr and Mrs. Nikki Carr leave Brooke Point after seven years of running the drama program. They will leave a big void in the life of the school.

world events

▲ Russian President Boris Yeltsin shocked the world by resigning on New Year's Eve. He handed the reigns of power to Prime Minister Vladimir Putin. In one of his first acts as President, Putin gave Yeltsin bodyguards, a pension, and immunity from prosecution.

▲ Alaska Airline Flight 261 crashed 11 miles off Point Mugu, California on January 31. All 88 people on board were killed.

▲ School violence continued to be a major concern. Since February of 1997, school shooting sprees left 36 dead and 77 wounded.

▲ Elian Gonzalez, a six-year-old refugee from Cuba was rescued after the boat carrying him and his mother went down in the Atlantic Ocean. Elian's mother drowned on their journey and a huge controversy erupted over whether the boy should be allowed to stay in the United States with relatives, or returned to his father in Cuba.

▲ Six firefighters were killed in a December 3, Worchester, Massachusetts blaze started by squatters in a warehouse. More than 15,000 firefighters from all over the world gathered for a memorial service.

▲ Russia came under international scrutiny for waging a civil war to try to hold on to the break-away republic of Chechnya. After months of fierce fighting neither side gained much ground, and a settlement seemed nowhere in sight.

▲ Raisa Gorbachev, former first lady of the Soviet Union, died after a battle with leukemia.

A Ninety-year old Doris Haddock, also known as "Granny D," walked 3,000 miles across the U.S. to draw attention to campaign figures reform ▲ Greek deputy foreign minister Yiannos Kranidiotis was killed after the plane he was traveling in suddenly lost altitude on its way to Romania. Kranidiotis and his son were both reported dead.

▲ Switzerland's Bertrand Piccard and Britain's Brian Jones travelled around the world in a balloon on a 20-day, 29,000 mile voyage. This was the first voyage of its kind to make it all the way around the world.

A "America's son" John F. Kennedy Jr., his wife Carolyn Bessette and her sister Lauren Bessette were killed when the plane John was piloting crashed into the ocean off the coast of Massachusetts.

▲ The San Diego Zoo was home to Hua Mei, the first surviving giant panda to be born in a North American zoo.

▲ Over 17,000 people were killed and thousands more injured when a magnitude 7.4 earthquake hit Izmit, Turkey on August 17.

▲ Suspected serial killer Rafael Resendez-Ramirez surrendered to authorities after more than three weeks on the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list. He was wanted in connection with eight murders along railroad tracks in Illinois, Kentucky, and Texas.

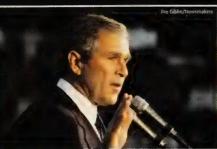

▲ The last solar eclipse of the century drew thousands of spectators around the world on August 11. A shadow cast by the moon turned day to night for those in a seventy mile wide path from England to India.

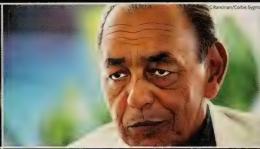

▲ The rain from Hurricane Floyd caused the worst flooding in North Carolina in recent memory. Water from the Tar and Neuse rivers covered 66 counties, destroying over 4,000 homes and killing 51 people.

▲ All 217 passengers aboard EgyptAir flight 990 were killed October 31, after the plane dropped 17,000 feet in a matter of seconds. Initial reports indicated that a backup pilot may have intentionally plunged the plane into the Atlantic Ocean southeast of Nantucket Island.

▲ George W. Bush took the essential states he needed on "Super Tuesday" to win the Republican nomination for president, beating out John McCain.▼

▲ Morocco's King Hassan, one of the Middle Easts' most devoted peacemakers, died after ruling for over 38 years.

▲ A heat wave in the Eastern U.S. claimed 95 lives and withered crops from Kansas to the Atlantic Ocean.

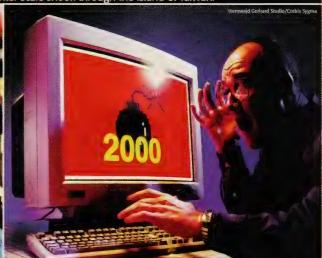

▲ Thousands were feared dead as a "supercyclone" tore through India in October.

Another cyclone just two weeks earlier killed 100 people and injured 1,000 in Orissa.

Another cyclone just two weeks earlier killed 100 people and injured 1,000 in Orissa.

▲ Despite fears of the predicted Y2K bug, mass computer shutdowns and chaos in the streets, January 1, 2000 came and went with virtually no problems at all.

▲ Stalled Middle East peacemaking efforts were put back on track when Yasser Arafat and Prime Minister Ehud Barak of Israel signed a land-for-security agreement.

▲ Despite strong showings in early polls for former senator Bill Bradley, Vice President Al Gore had the Democratic presidential nomination wrapped up by the end of "Super Tuesday" in March.

▲ A November World Trade Organization conference in Seattle was disrupted by violent protesters claiming the WTO promoted large, multinational corporations at the expense of workers' rights and environmental concerns.

▲ A string of deadly tornados crossed the southwest, killing 47 people and damaging or destroying over 2,600 homes and businesses. Worst hit was the Oklahoma City area where over 50 tornados touched down.

After overcoming a near-fatal battle with cancer, American cyclist Lance Armstrong became the second American to win the Tour de France.

▲ With a World Series sweep of the Atlanta Braves, the New York Yankees had their 3rd series win in 4 years and a record 25 total.

▲ Winning the Women's World Cup in an overtime shoot-out, Brandi Chastain's final shot clenched a hard-fought victory for the U.S. soccer team in front of more than 90,000 fans.

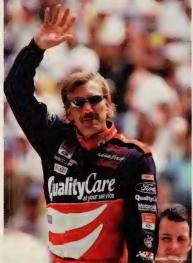

▲ Margaret McGregor made it into sports history by defeating Loi Chow in the first male-female boxing match.

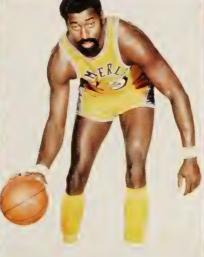

▲ New Zealand won its second consecutive America's Cup, returning the 149-year-old trophy to the Royal New Zealand Yacht Squadron.

▲ With only four wins in Nascar's 1999 Winston Cup Series, Dale Jarrett came out on top with the championship by placing in the top five twenty-four times.

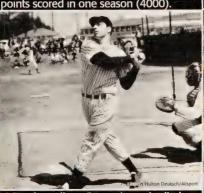

▲ One of basketballs greatest players, Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain died at age 63. At the time of his death he still held several NBA records, including the most points scored in one game (100), and the most points scored in one season (4000).

▲ Serena Williams became the only African-American woman to win a Grand Slam tennis championship in over 40 years with her win in the US Open women's singles match.

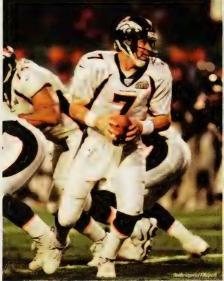

▲ Tiger Woods ended '99 at the top of his game, ranked number one in the golfing world.

▲ "Yankee Clipper" Joe DiMaggio died at age 84. DiMaggio made it in the record books for his 56 game hitting streak in 1941, cementing his spot in baseball history for all time.

▲ Allen Iverson showed his stuff this year. Iverson, whose height is six feet even, was the shortest NBA scoring champion ever. He also finished third in the League and was named to the All-NBA first team.

▲ Atlanta Braves pitcher, John Rocker, was suspended by Major League Baseball after making controversial remarks to a Sports Illustrated writer during the off-season.

▲ Wayne Gretzky retired after 20 seasons with the Edmonton Oilers, Los Angeles Kings, and New York Rangers. Gretzky helped win four Stanley Cup championships and three Canada Cup tournament titles. He was also inducted into the Hockey Hall of Farne in Canada.

▲ After 17 years, Miami Dolphins quarterback Dan Marino retired. The 38-year-old Marino threw for a record 61,361 yards and 420 touchdowns, but never won a Super Bowl Championship.

▲ Maurice Greene continued to wow us, breaking the 100-meter world record in Athens. He added the world indoor 60-meter title, and the 200-meter title to his collection to become the first man to achieve the sprint double in the World Championships. Then he grabbed a 4x100-meter relay gold medal, too.

▲ Andre Agassi had an awesome year, winning the U.S. Open and the French Open, and taking over the number one ranking from Pete Sampras for the first time since 1996. Agassi and Steffi Graf plan to marry in June.
